Dear Hearing Panel: Exhibit A to my Updated Statement of Alleged Offenses of The Reverend Dr. B. Cayce Ramey is a July 2, 2025 email from the Respondent to his Family, Friends and Colleagues. It includes names and email addresses of the people to whom the email was sent. Those names and addresses are private and have no probative value in this case. Title IV allows redacted documents. See, e.g., Canons IV. 13.3(b) and 13.8.

I propose and request that the attachment, which is the July 2, 2025 email with the names and addresses redacted but the text of the July 2, 2025 email intact, be substituted for the version of Exhibit A I submitted to you with my Updated Statement. If you approve, the attachment is what will appear on the diocesan website per Canon IV.13.3.

Thank you for considering this request.

Dear Family, Friends, Colleagues,

Here is the decision from the Appeal. All guilty findings were overturned on procedural or canonical grounds.

I received it just over two hours ago, so am still processing it. Happy to talk with those who'd like to converse about it at some point. Some initial reaction from me... I never wanted to "win" on canonical or procedural grounds. Not much has changed, we're still talking a good game and refusing to change. More to follow...

Peace,
Cayce
