ORGANIZATION

CANON I, SECTION 1. A list of all the ordained Ministers, or Clergy, of the Protestant Episcopal Church canonically resident in this Diocese, with their post office addresses, and their respective cures, stations or positions, shall be prepared by the Ecclesiastical Authority and kept, corrected up to date, on file at the headquarters of the Diocese.

This official list of the Clergy of the Diocese shall be prima facie evidence of a Clergyman's canonical residence, and his cure, station or position.

SECTION 2. The right of any Clergyman to vote in the Council shall, if denied or disputed, be determined by the Council itself according to the provisions of the Constitution and Canons, whether his name be inserted in, or omitted from, the said list.

SECTION 3. The said list of the Clergy of the Diocese, corrected up to date, with the names of those entitled to vote in the Council designated thereon, shall be laid before the Council on the first day of its meeting, and the roll of the Clerical delegates entitled to vote shall be called therefrom.

CANON II, SECTION 4. The Secretary of the Council shall make a roll of the Lay Delegates and Alternates certified to him as duly elected, with the Parishes, Separate Congregations, Mission Churches, or Missionary Jurisdictions represented by them respectively, and upon the meeting of the Council shall call their names therefrom. The President shall thereupon appoint a Committee on Credentials, to be composed of one Clergyman and two Lay Delegates, to which shall be referred the Credentials of all Lay Delegates and which shall make its report to the Council promptly. But until this report be received the roll as made and called by the Secretary shall, unless objection be made, be accepted as the authentic roll of Lay Delegates.

Should doubt arise as to the right of any Lay Delegate to his seat, the Committee on Credentials shall hear the evidence presented and report its judgment thereon. Upon this report the Council shall determine the matter unless by a vote of two-thirds of the members present the Council shall decide to hear the whole case de novo.

RULES OF ORDER

I. ORDER OF BUSINESS.

1. The Council shall be opened on the first day with a brief service of prayer, and on the second day with a celebration of the Holy Communion, at which time there may be a sermon by a preacher selected by the Bishop.

2. Upon completion of the service on the first day the Secretary shall report the number present of the clergy canonically connected with the Diocese according to the list prepared by the Ecclesiastical Authority, and the number present of the lay delegates, certified to the Secretary as duly elected. The credentials of the lay delegates shall thereupon be referred to a committee on credentials composed of one clergyman and two lay delegates appointed by the President.

3. Except as otherwise provided herein, the following order of business shall be observed:

- (a) Report of the Secretary.
- (b) Election of the Secretary of the Diocese, who is ex-officio the Secretary of the Council.

- (d) Adoption of a program of the Council prepared by the Secretary and the Committee on the Dispatch of Business, in consultation with rector of the host parish.
- (e) Reading of pastoral addresses.
- (f) Appointment of committees.
- (g) Reports of standing committees, commissions and boards.
- (h) Reports of special committees.
- (i) Communications from Convocations.
- (j) Unfinished business.
- (k) New business.
- (l) Adjournment.

4. (A) There shall be appointed by the President and announced on the first day of the Council the following standing committees, to consist of an equal number of each order, unless otherwise directed:

(1) Committee on the State of the Church, to whom shall be referred the pastoral addresses of the Bishops made to the Council, with particular direction to report to the Council upon any recommendations made in the pastoral addresses.

(2) Committee on Invested Funds, to consist of five laymen, to whom shall be referred the accounts of all funds held by the Trustees of the Funds of the Diocese.

(3) Committee on New Parishes, whenever such a committee is needed.

(4) Committee on Canons, to whom shall be referred all motions to amend either the Canons or the Constitution of the Diocese.

(5) Committee on Nominations to Diocesan Corporations, to whom shall be reported all vacancies in membership of such boards for which nominations must be made by the Council, and to whom all nominations for membership of any of such boards shall be referred for their consideration before being presented to the Council. The Committee shall also nominate seven persons for election by the Council to represent this Diocese on the Virginia Council of Churches.

(6) Committee on the Dispatch of Business, who shall recommend orders of the day, hours for taking votes, the hour for the Council to sit as a Missionary Council, and other matters pertaining to the orderly dispatch of business.

(7) A Committee on Minutes, consisting of three clergymen and three laymen, who shall hear and approve the reading of the Minutes of the Council after each day's session.

(B) (1) There shall be appointed by the President at each annual meeting of the Council a commission on resolutions to serve at the next annual meeting of the Council and at any special meetings that might be called before the next annual meeting. As many proposed resolutions as possible shall be forwarded to the Secretary of the Diocese at least two weeks before the annual meeting of the Council so that they may be edited, mimeographed and mailed to all deputies and to the Chairman of the commission on resolutions.

(2) The President shall have authority at each Council after making appointments of standing committees for such Council to appoint the Chairman and so many of the other members of such committees as he may think proper, who shall serve during the ensuing interim and at the next meeting of the Council.

5. Nominations for the Standing Committee of the Diocese, the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society, the Committee on Finance, and for Deputies to the Synod of the Province and the General Convention shall be made on the first day of the Council, and the names shall be printed, to be voted upon at an hour to be specified by the Council for the election of these and such other committees, officers or representatives as may need to be chosen. In these elections, after the second ballot, the two names receiving the smallest number of votes shall be dropped from the ballot.

In every election by ballot, when two or more persons are to be chosen, any ballot which does not have the specified number of names shall not be counted by the tellers.

6. Nominations for the Standing Committee of the Diocese, the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society, the Committee on Finance, and for Deputies to the Synod of the Province shall be made on the first day of the Council, and the names shall be printed, to be voted upon at an hour to be specified by the Council for the election of these and such other committees, officers or representatives as may need to be chosen.

7. (a) Preparation of Ballots. Immediately after the nominations have been made, the Secretary of the Convention shall have ballots prepared giving the names of the various nominees in groups; following the names of the nominees there shall be three columns designated "First Choice," "Second Choice," and "Third Choice."

(b) Method of Voting. The voters should check in these columns the names of the nominees for whom they vote, checking in the first column their choices as many in number as there are positions to be filled, and checking the same number of second and third choices in the second and third columns. If there be sufficient names in nomination, when two or more persons are to be chosen, any ballot which does not have the full number of names to be chosen shall not be counted by the tellers. If only the number of persons to be elected be placed in nomination, the Secretary, upon motion duly made, seconded and adopted, shall cast the vote of the Council in favor of such nominees.

(c) Defective Ballots. If any delegate votes two or three times for the same person for the same position, his second and third choices shall be void.

(d) Counting the Ballots. After counting the ballots, the tellers shall report as elected the required number of nominees who receive the highest votes in the first column, if a majority of the delegates has voted for him.

If any of the required number fail to receive a majority in the first column, the tellers shall add to the number of delegates voting for him in the first column, the number of delegates voting for him in the second column, and if these make a majority of the delegates voting, the tellers shall report him as elected.

If any of the required number fail to receive a majority in the first two columns, the tellers shall add to the number of delegates voting for him in the first two columns, the number of delegates voting for him in the third column, and if these make a majority of the delegates voting, the tellers shall report him as elected.

If any of the required number who received the "high" vote in the first column fails to have a majority of the delegates voting for him in all three columns, the tellers shall in turn take the next highest in the first column and add to the number of delegates voting for him in that column, the number of delegates voting for him in the other columns, and if in the three columns the tellers find that a majority of the delegates have voted for him, the tellers shall report him as elected.

(e) Reporting the Election. The tellers shall report the results of the balloting to the President of the Council.

II. RULES OF PROCEDURE.

7. When a motion is made and seconded, it shall be stated by the President, and, if in writing, be read by the Secretary; every resolution shall be referred to its proper committee, if there be such a committee, to be considered and reported on before debate by the Council.

8. After a motion is stated by the President, or read by the Secretary, it shall be deemed in possession of the Council, but may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before amendment or decision, with the consent of the second.

9. Every motion shall be reduced to writing if the President or any member require it.

10. No new motion or proposition shall be admitted under color of amendment or as a substitute for the motion or proposition under debate, but a substitute for the whole that is germane to the question may be admissible.

11. When a question is under debate no motion shall be received but to adjourn, to lay on the table, for the previous question, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a certain day, to commit or to amend; which several motions shall have precedence in the order enumerated.

12. The previous question shall be admitted only when demanded by a majority of the members present; it shall be in this form: "Shall the main question now be put?"; until decided all debate and amendments are precluded.

13. A motion to adjourn, or lay on the table, shall always be in order and shall be decided without debate.

14. When a member desires to speak in debate or present any matter to the Council, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to the President. He shall confine himself to the question under debate, avoiding all personalities.

15. If any member transgress the rules of the Council, the President shall, or any member may, call him to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately take his seat, unless permitted to explain. If the ruling of the President be appealed from, the Council shall decide the appeal without debate.

16. When two or more members rise at once, the President shall decide who is entitled to the floor.

17. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the Council.

18. The vote on all questions shall be taken by order, whenever as many as five members request it.

19. Any member may call for a division of the question where the sense will admit of it, but a motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible.

20. Every member who may be in the house when any question is put shall give his vote, unless the Council, for special reasons, shall excuse him.

21. No member shall vote upon a question in the decision of which he is immediately and personally interested.

22. When a question has been decided by the Council or postponed indefinitely, it may be reconsidered upon motion made by a member voting in the majority, provided such motion be made on the same or next succeeding day of the session.

23. No motion or resolution appropriating any of the funds of the Diocese shall be adopted until it has been reported up by the Finance Committee, or in their absence, by a special committee.

24. Reports of all committees shall be in writing. Statistical and other reports of officers and committees which require no action by the Council may be read by title only, and any report may be read in part only when the President shall, without obligation, so direct, or when the Council shall so require. But such reports shall be published in full in the Journal unless otherwise ordered.

III. GENERAL.

25. No member shall absent himself from the meetings of the Council without leave, unless he be sick or unable to attend.

26. The President may, at his discretion, select suitable seats without the limits of those allotted to the use of the members, which shall be appropriated to the accommodation of visiting clergymen and candidates for Orders, who may be invited by the rector or wardens of the church in which the meetings of the Council are held, under the direction of the President and Council.

27. No spectators shall, during the daily session of the Council, be admitted above or within the pews allotted to the members, and the rector and wardens of the church in which the sessions of the Council are held are directed to see that this rule is enforced.

28. No rule of order shall be suspended except with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

JOURNAL

OF THE

157th Annual Council of the Diocese of Virginia

CHRIST CHURCH, WINCHESTER, VIRGINIA,
Wednesday, May 28, 1952.

The 157th Annual Council of the Diocese of Virginia was opened in Christ Church, Winchester, Wednesday, May 28th, at 10:00 A. M., with the service of Morning Prayer read by the Rev. Henry G. Lane and the Rev. Paul S. Heins.

Bishop Goodwin called the Council to order at 10:30. The Secretary, reporting on the roll call, stated that a quorum in both orders was present.

The Rev. Theodore H. Evans requested the courtesy of seats in Council for the Rev. Samuel J. Wy'ie, the Rev. Harry J. Rains and the Rev. Joseph R. Walker. This was granted.

The Rev. Samuel B. Chilton was elected Secretary of the Diocese. He appointed the Rev. W. Francis Burke and the Rev. David H. Lewis, Jr., as Assistant Secretaries.

The Bishop appointed on the Committee on Credentials the Rev. Francis B. Rhein, Mr. John M. Ramey and Mr. Henry L. Baxley.

The Chancellor of the Diocese, Mr. Archibald G. Robertson, moved that the Rules of Order for last year's Council be adopted with three new sections as substitutes for Sections 5 and 6. This was seconded.

The Rev. Charles G. Leavell offered a substitute motion that the Council return to its former method of voting and casting ballots. The motion was lost.

The Chair asked that the Council vote on Sections 5 and 6 as recommended by Mr. Robertson. These were adopted. They are printed as Sections 6 and 7 of the Rules of Order.

The following paragraph recommended by Mr. Robertson as a substitute for Section 5 of the Rules of Order was considered:

Nominations for deputies to the General Convention as prescribed in Canon III shall be made on the first day of the Council, and the names of the nominees shall be printed, to be voted upon at an hour to be specified by the Council for their election which shall be by majority vote of the Council.

Mr. Leavell moved as a substitute to this section the following:

Resolved, That two deputies to General Convention in each order be elected by due process of ballot.

Following due election of these deputies, two additional deputies in each order are to be elected by ballot. Four alternate deputies to General Convention in each order are then to be elected by due process of balloting.

This motion was seconded and passed.

The Rev. Mr. Hanckel, host rector, was recognized by the Chair. Mr. Hanckel made a gracious speech of welcome to the Council. He moved the adoption of the program as printed. This motion was seconded and carried.

The Rev. David H. Lewis, Jr., offered the following amendment to the Rules of Order:

Resolved, That Rule No. 4, section (A), sub-section (5) be amended by substituting for the sentence "The Committee shall also nominate seven persons for election by the Council to represent this Diocese on the Virginia Council of Churches" the following:

"The Committee shall also nominate possible members of the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society from the Diocese at large for the ensuing three years, and shall nominate seven persons for election by the Council to represent this Diocese on the Virginia Council of Churches."

After considerable discussion the motion was lost.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the Rules of Order as amended be adopted.

Bishop Goodwin then gave his pastoral address, as follows:

The invitation of the hospitable people of Christ Church, Winchester, and of this community to hold the 1952 meeting of the Council of Virginia in Winchester was accepted enthusiastically by this body meeting in Charlottesville last year; so, after twenty-five years, having met here last in 1927, we are back, and are glad to be here. In twenty-five years the Council has grown, the number of clergymen attending by 40% and the number of laymen by 73%, but we are confident that the hospitable facilities of Winchester have increased proportionately. So we may now settle down to enjoyment and the duties of this, the 157th Annual Council of the Diocese of Virginia.

INTRODUCTION OF MEMBERS

The list of official acts of the Bishops of the Diocese, together with a record of clerical changes of the past year, is hereby submitted by title and is in the hands of the Secretary of the Council. However, since this in a very real sense, is a family gathering and a Christian fellowship, we ought, brethren, to know one another. May I, therefore, ask that all clergymen for whom this is the first Council meeting in Virginia please stand and, in a voice that may be heard, give your name and church.

Now will all the lay delegates who are attending their first Council meeting please introduce yourselves in like manner—and here is one time that we ask you to out-voice the preachers.

In this and in every Council there is a very select group of ex-officio members—the Chancellor of the Diocese, the lay members of the Standing Committee, and the members of the Finance Committee. Will these laymen, who throughout the year perform yeoman service for the Diocese, be so good as to stand and identify themselves and their office.

Within the period since our last Council, four of our brethren of the clergy have passed out of our diocesan fellowship into the life of wider service of Paradise.

ALEXANDER GALT

The Reverend Alexander Galt died February 22, 1952, aged 87 years. Born in Norfolk on March 18, 1864, he graduated from the Alexandria Seminary in 1887. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Whittle on June 24th of that year and advanced to the priesthood by Bishop Randolph on June 29, 1888.

Mr. Galt's whole life of active service was spent in rural parishes and ministering to small congregations. The call of duty carried him to different states, serving pastorates in Maryland, North Carolina and Kentucky as well as in Virginia; but always after a tour of duty elsewhere, he came back to his native state. His last parish was Upper Truro Parish at Herndon for ten years from 1921 to 1931. Retiring from active work at that time, he spent the later years at his home in Falls Church, for a great deal of that time under the affliction of loss of sight.

There are men who, like Mr. Galt, have devoted their lives to service in the rural fields. All honour to them. The Church in Virginia, as elsewhere, owes an undying debt of gratitude to our faithful and devoted rural clergy-men, and Mr. Galt well typified the best of them.

JAMES HUBARD LLOYD

The Reverend James Hubbard Lloyd, D. D., died on July 27, 1951, after a long illness. A child of the rectory, he was born November 3, 1883, in Bedford, Virginia, the son of a widely beloved father, the Rev. John J. Lloyd. As a priest of the Nippon Sei Ko Kwai he won the esteem and strong affection of the Japanese Christian community. As the result of a serious accident and its ensuing ill health, he returned to this country for treatment in 1923, and served for two years as rector of Christ Church at Blacksburg, Virginia. Returning to Japan, he continued his work until 1940, when the state of his health compelled his final retirement from the Japan Mission.

He continued to serve for a few years as his health permitted, at Emmanuel Church, Chatham, then at Hickory Neck Church in James City County, and in 1944 he accepted the rectorship of Westover Parish in Charles City County. Winning the grateful love of his people wherever he ministered, he served with indomitable spirit and in increasing weakness of bodily health until in the end his death was the opening of a door into a new freedom.

Three of his sons have followed their father and their grandfather into the ministry of the Church: The Rev. Barton Myers Lloyd at the Virginia Seminary, and the Rev. John Janny Lloyd, II, in Japan, and Mr. Baldwin Lloyd, now a student at the Seminary.

THOMAS SEMMES

The Reverend Thomas Semmes died October 19, 1951, aged 91 years. Born in the town of Alexandria in June, 1860, he graduated from the Alexandria Seminary in 1894; he was ordained deacon by Bishop Whittle, and in 1895 was advanced to the priesthood by Bishop Newton.

He was sent as a deacon to the charge of Lunenburg Parish in Richmond County, and held that charge for three years. Called in 1897 to the charge of a young and growing mission congregation in the city of Richmond, he accepted and became rector of Saint Andrew's Church. He led that congregation in a most unusual and remarkable career of development and growth. By reason of the generous interest of a devoted Christian woman who had dedicated her great wealth to the service of the Church and the community, Miss Grace Arents, the present church building was erected, a parish school established with adequate school building and financial maintenance; a rectory and a community library building erected, all at her expense. And the old St. Andrew's, a wooden building, was removed and re-erected in what was then a suburban section as the home of a new mission congregation, which became the Church of the Holy Comforter.

While rector of St. Andrew's, Mr. Semmes and Mr. Henry Lee Valentine of St. James' Church, as leaders in the Brotherhood of Saint Andrew in Richmond, started in 1898 the custom of regular mid-day Lenten services. Beginning at first in a vacant store on Main Street, the growing attendance caused the removal to Saint Paul's Church, where they have continued ever since as one of the notable features of the observance of Lent in this city.

Mr. Semmes held the charge of St. Andrew's Church until 1912, when he went to the diocese of Southern Virginia, as rector of Emmanuel Church at Covington. He returned after two years to Richmond as the rector of Meade Memorial Church in South Richmond. Here again, in taking charge of a small congregation, he led his people into a development of reorganization and the erection of a new church building in a different location. With the new life a new name was taken, and the old Meade Memorial which was started as a memorial to Bishop Meade, of blessed memory, has taken the name of Saint Luke's Church. An earnest and devoted priest, a faithful preacher of the Word of Salvation, Mr. Semmes won the affection and gratitude of his people. He will long be remembered as the builder of two churches, St. Andrew's and St. Luke's, in the city of Richmond.

LOUIS TUCKER

The Reverend Louis Tucker, D. D., died in Mobile, Alabama, on May 1, 1952. Born in Columbus, Mississippi, on October 7, 1872, he graduated at the University of the South in 1892 with the degrees of B. A. and M. A.

Dr. Tucker spent the greater part of his ministry in the states of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas. He came into our fellowship of the Diocese of Virginia in 1929, and was rector of Clarke Parish in Clarke County for nine years, until 1938. He spent the following two years in charge of mission churches in Henrico County near Richmond: the Church of Our Saviour at Sandston and the Church of the Messiah at Highland Springs. He retired from active work in 1940. The author of a number of books about the Church and the ministry, he is affectionately remembered by those who knew him and those whom he had helped. He retained his connection with this Diocese even though after his retirement he removed to Mobile to live among the people of his earlier ministry.

JOHN B. MINOR

It sometimes happens, upon the death of a layman who has rendered exceptional service to the Diocese, that the Bishop, out of sheer gratitude, must make exception to the long-established rule of commemorating the brethren of the clergy only. At this time I think that I voice the gratitude of the whole Council for the long and devoted service of Mr. John B. Minor, who died on February 28, 1952, at the age of 85 years.

Born at the University of Virginia, the son of a noted professor of law and legal commentator, Mr. Minor came to Richmond in 1895. For ten years he held the position of professor of law in the law school of the old Richmond College, and then devoted himself to the private practice of his profession.

Mr. Minor was a vestrymen for many years of Grace and Holy Trinity Church, then Junior Warden, and Senior Warden until advancing age compelled his retirement. In the wider life of the diocese he served for twenty-five years as a member of the Standing Committee, and for a longer period as a member of the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society and its corporation, the Trustees of the Diocesan Missionary Society. He served as Chairman of the Commission appointed by the Diocesan Council to revise the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese; and three times he represented the Diocese as a lay deputy at triennial meetings of the General Convention. During all these years and in many varying capacities he has been, in the integrity and uprightness of his character, his legal ability and his great devotion to his Church, a tower of strength to the work and the life of our Church in this Diocese.

OTHERS

Would that time permitted us even to mention other faithful servants of God who in this past year having finished their course in faith now rest from their labors—Mr. George Mason, preparing at 70 years of age for ordination, having served so many years as lay reader and in charge of St. Stephen's, Catlett; Miss Carrie Makeley, after forty-five years in our Mountain Work; Miss Hattie Price, of Rocky Bar; Miss Annie Park, Director of the Preventorium, a woman of devoted service and glowing faith, whose works live after her. Their names, with many others, are written in the Lamb's Book of Life.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION

Every third year, and 1952 is such a year, is General Convention year. On Sunday, September 7th, the Convention meets in Boston for a two weeks' session. This Council must of course elect our clerical and lay deputies and their alternates. These are important elections, for these deputies are our representatives in the supreme legislative and administrative body of the Episcopal Church. They, and they alone, can speak authoritatively for the Church; they have the power to revise the Prayer Book by constitutional procedure; they determine major policies, outline programs of missionary work at home and abroad and adopt budgets and assign diocesan quotas. In all probability they will face, and must speak for us on such matters as our relation with other churches in our common search for Christian cooperation, inter-communion and that unity which is the will of our Lord; on vestry rights in electing a rector, on legislation regarding marriages and divorce, and on many other important issues. It is not the custom of this Diocese to give instruction to their deputies to General Convention on how to vote. We select representatives in whom we have confidence, and rely on them to express both their own minds and consciences and that of the Diocese. Since it is important, therefore, to have the Diocese represented by the best qualified deputies, clerical and lay, I would suggest that those who make nominations for deputies take a moment or two to state the reasons for putting their nominees' names before the Council, so that we may all vote more intelligently. Also I am glad to commend to your favorable consideration the revision of our present Rules of Order which will be proposed shortly, whereby the election of deputies to the General Convention shall be by the old style ballot. I am in favor of our new method of balloting for first, second and third choices for the generality of elections each Council makes. It saves time and seems to be entirely fair. However, I am of the opinion that the election of a Bishop, already defined by the Constitution, and the election of deputies to the General Convention should receive considered attention ballot by ballot. And it is a good deal more interesting, too. We do not want to take all the flavoring out of the pudding, nor all interest out of our business by reducing everything to capsule form.

THE BISHOP'S BUILDING FUND CAMPAIGN

Turning to the affairs of our own Diocese, during this past year our major corporate effort has been the Campaign for the Bishops' Building Fund. How did this effort begin? Its origin grew out of a conviction that the Diocese of Virginia had such responsibilities to make itself more effective as it faced new conditions brought about by many factors as could only be fulfilled by a careful and comprehensive study of diocesan situations, and a corporate and honest effort to furnish the means to meet these responsibilities.

Obviously, a study and survey of the Diocese had to be made. It was done under professional guidance, and when the needs revealed by this study had been evaluated by committees of clergy and laymen, it was determined that the sum of $1,300,000 would be required to put the Diocese in a position to move forward effectively. The diocesan Council last year recognized this need and unanimously adopted resolutions creating a Campaign Committee and authorizing this Committee to initiate and conduct a diocesan-wide capital funds campaign for the purpose of raising the needed sum. We saw the vision of our responsibilities and opportunities and in good faith we went out to raise the money necessary to enable our Diocese to meet them. To the members of this Campaign Committee this Diocese owes a debt of gratitude for unselfish and inspiring leadership, and I know you would have me express our sincere thanks to Messrs. Edmund Campbell, Chairman, Tennant Bryan, Lee Butler, Albert Smoot and Dr. C. J. Gibson, committee members. I am further confident that their report and recommendations to this body will receive the most courteous and careful consideration.

Now I am sure that I am revealing no secrets, nor unfairly anticipating the report of the committee when I say that the B-B-F Campaign was only a partial success and does not represent the kind of corporate effort with which this Diocese can rest content when we are scarcely a third of the way to our goal. Last year we saw the vision of this need in very concrete terms—New churches, parish houses, rectories and school buildings. This year the need is, if anything, greater. Our vision and faith must grow to meet it.

It is quite obvious that, in reviewing the campaign to date, no general statement can do justice to the varying degrees of response, good or not so good, hearty or feeble, efficient or just so-so, that have been evidenced from church to church, from individual to individual. All churches, all individuals did not fail, for there was much sacrificial giving and, after all, $400,000 was pledged.

But the goal was not reached, and we can reach it. We must not give up lest we fail in a clear duty God has given us the vision to see and the power to fulfill. Our monetary goal is secondary. Our primary end is the informed and honest effort of every member of the Diocese to help meet this challenge. If this is done we know the money will be forthcoming. I want to put all the influence that the Bishops of the Diocese can command back of this movement until every one of us in the Diocese has done his informed and faithful part.

DIOCESAN ORGANIZATION

Begun last Lent, and now continued as a daily practice at Diocesan Headquarters at the Mayo Memorial House, the members of the staff are summoned for a short service of worship at 9:00 o'clock each work day morning. When the chimes ring, they come from every direction, upstairs and down, secretaries, treasurers, assistant treasurers, deans, educational experts, statisticians, receptionists and telephone girls, the Historiographer sometimes, public relations and publicity personnel, Bishops and visitors, until one wonders what is going on in the diocesan life to require such a retinue of central office employees! There are sixteen full-time salaried persons, not counting the janitor or the City Missionary, who have desk space at the Mayo Memorial. And the end is not yet. The Bishops are hopefully hinting that the Diocese, to say nothing of the Bishops themselves, needs an Archdeacon or an Executive Assistant to the Bishops. The Board of Christian Social Relations would claim desk space and other emoluments for their new Executive Director. All these together add up to a lot of people, a good sized organization, a sort of potential, priestly Pentagon.

Are we top-heavy with organization? Are we tending towards a bureaucratic administration as the answer to the growing complexity and pressure of our common problem? The situation should be carefully studied, as was recommended by the Committee on the State of the Church last year. These are valuable and busy people at Diocesan Headquarters. Some of them, notably the Rev. Samuel Chilton and Mr. Fred Morris, are over-worked now, and the work is increasing all the time. Are we under-staffed—over-staffed?

I don't know. A careful study of this situation is certainly in order, and I commend to your careful consideration a resolution from the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society that will bring the matter to your attention.

THE ORGANIZATION AND WORK OF THE D. M. S.

While we are speaking of the need for a study of our organizational structure in the Diocese, it is well to be reminded of certain features of our present plan of diocesan organization, that are distinctive of Virginia, and quite directly affect the way we do things.

When the General Convention of 1919 reorganized the administrative structure of the general Church, did away with the old Board of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, except for certain legal purposes, and elected a Presiding Bishop, a National Council, and set up certain Departments of Missions, Religious Education, Social Service and others, there was an immediate rush by dioceses to reorganize themselves along the same pattern. It became both fashionable and proper to become streamlined along the plan of "281 Fourth Avenue." The Diocese of Virginia also felt the urge, and there were proposals to do away with the existing diocesan organization as out of date, and set up a nice, new, shiny Bishop and Council, and a Board of Missions, a Board of Religious Education, a Board of Finance and so forth. But many of us were not impressed, for the new proposals meant doing away with the Diocesan Missionary Society which, since 1829, had comprised the entire membership of the Diocese united in one working unit, to foster missionary enterprise in the rural parishes, in the mountains, in the Negro missions and elsewhere throughout the Diocese. It was a very real and precious factor in our corporate life. Why throw out the baby with the bath just to get some clean water in the tub? So in our reorganization, we kept the Diocesan Missionary Society and its Executive Committee, and under the Executive Committee were organized the Board of Religious Education, of Social Service, the Field Board, and so forth. But not a Board of Missions, because a concern for and the care of the missionary work of the Diocese was so much a part of the missionary spirit of all the people of Virginia that they were unwilling to commit this privilege and responsibility to any Board. So we have no Board of Missions in this Diocese; rather the entire membership of the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society is the Board of Missions, and most of the time of the meetings of the Executive Committee is taken up with the consideration of missionary matters, that could be assigned to a Board of Missions, as most dioceses do; but that is not the spirit of this Diocese. We are all on the Board of Missions. This is the reason also that this Council at the place designated on the program convenes as "Council sitting as a missionary Council of the Diocese," receives various Board reports, but not one from any Board of Missions, for there isn't one.

There will be a report on the missionary work of the Diocese for the past year to be made by Bishop Gibson this afternoon, and also a report of the Program and Budget Committee on the financial side of the picture, but these come not as reports of Boards, but from the whole Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society to the whole membership of the Diocese gathered through their representatives here today as a Missionary Council.

This emphasis on missions as our common, as well as our personal, responsibility is one reason that the missionary spirit and generosity of the Diocese of Virginia stands in front rank in the Church, and may we never lose that place.

As important as is the work of each of the Boards that will report to you, the reports of two especially need underscoring at this time. First, the work of the Board of Christian Education, as they furnish the guidance that puts our Diocese in the full sweep of the quietly developing but effective movement for Christian education for every member of the parish, a movement that is to reach every congregation, large or small, in the church. Under the auspices of our Diocesan Board, the clergy of the Diocese held last month a full four-day conference at Roslyn under the leadership of Drs. Heuss, Howe, Wedel, Ward and Mrs. Chaplin, of the National Council—our Board will see to it that this movement is kept alive in our Diocese to deepen the intellectual and spiritual life of our people.

When to this there is added the great opportunity afforded by the summer conferences for young and old at Shrine Mont and Roslyn, the constant help rendered Sunday Schools through teacher training help, visual aids and curriculum advice—all part of the program of the Diocesan Board of Christian Education—it can readily be seen how much we owe to the efficient work of the Board and its officers.

And let us not forget the work of the Board of Evangelism, highlighted this year by the Bryan Green Mission scheduled for Richmond and Charlottesville the latter part of November. Evangelism is the work of the Church. To seek to bring men to Christ, to get a commitment to a Christian attitude and way of life and to bring such persons into a vital relationship with Christ through the Church,—this is the very thing to which Christ committed His Church. Every one of us needs this constant reminder, and every effort of our diocesan Commission on Evangelism to train our clergy as missionaries and to promote evangelism by parish missions, should receive our fullest support.

One other feature of our diocesan life that should be noted with gratitude is the increasing interest and service of the laymen of the Diocese in areas larger than their own parishes. Parochially they have always been loyal and active, but now, stimulated no doubt by the inspiring example of the Woman's Auxiliary, their larger interest and increased activities are indicated by the growing attendance at the annual meeting of the Episcopal Laymen of the Diocese of Virginia, and the other activities of that organization.

Further, their competent service on local Boards of Strategy in Piedmont and Richmond, and just now conspicuously, the interest and effectiveness with which certain laymen in the northern part of the Diocese are helping to procure lots for future church sites in rapidly growing areas; these and other indications that might be mentioned, speak well for continued increase in the informed and spiritual effective service to the Church by our laymen. May their tribe be increased!

THE CHURCH CONSTANT WILL REMAIN

A recent incursus into one of our fatter dictionaries informs me that one definition of the word "generation" is a period of time of about thirty years or roughly three generations to a century; which presents to me personally the startling fact that I am now a second generation member of the Council of the Diocese of Virginia. A glance at the clergy list of my first Council in 1918 shows only one name, other than my own, among the clergymen who since that time has been continuously in active service in the Diocese, the Rev. Cary Montague; and only two lay representatives have continuously survived the test of the years, B. T. Newton and Lewis C. Williams. Mr. Newton would probably like to rise here and point out that he and I are exactly the same age, and neither one of us is as old as I am trying to make out.

But the fact remains that a generation has passed on and what has that thirty-five years meant in human history? A World War, the prosperity of the twenties, the depression of the thirties, and another World War, the birth of the atomic age, the Cold War, the Korean War, and tomorrow? Who knows? More dramatic and fundamental changes in the total affairs of men than any other generation of recorded history can supply.

And yet the Church? the Diocese? New faces? Yes! New budget figures? Yes! But just take the Journal of 1918 in your hands and look at it in comparison with the 1951 Journal. The very printing, the type, the format are the same. The same committees, the same Diocesan Missionary Society, the same reports, the same parochial and financial statistics. We seem to be walking the same path now as then. Then, as now, we were baptizing, confirming, marrying, burying, holding services, celebrating the Holy Communion, teaching in Sunday Schools, ordaining, preaching, giving for the support and extension of the work of the Church—just change a few names and figures and we could almost save ourselves the trouble and expense of printing a 1952 Journal. There are some improvements to be noted: the 1918 Statistician reported that only 10% of the parochial reports were reasonably accurate. The 1952 Statistician lists 66 out of 172, or 33% as accurate, which would indicate a slight improvement in the I. Q. of the clergy and parish treasurers. The 1918 Council passed a fervid resolution on the war—wars were new to that generation—practically equating their personal patriotism and their corporate enthusiasm for World War I with the Kingdom of God. You could probably not get such a resolution through the 1952 Council; but, in justice to the former generation, it must be remembered that 1918 was in a period when Article IX of the Articles of Religion on "Original or Birth Sin" was an ecclesiastical "top secret," whereas now it is all out in the open, and we are not quite so sure of ourselves.

Yet in spite of these and other minor differences, how similar are the records of the years. In 1918 we opposed force with force and won a war, but not a peace. In 1952 we are building frantically the instruments of war, praying that they may be instruments of peace, yet not knowing, scarcely daring to hope. It isn't only the Church, nor the Diocese of Virginia, that seems to be treading the same old round, generation after generation. Our nation—mankind—seems to be caught in a vicious and dangerous cycle of events we cannot control, and from which we cannot escape. In the midst of all of this change and danger without, is the Church, and particularly that part of it with which God has entrusted to us in the Diocese of Virginia, are we asleep? Are we fooling ourselves by following out a round of trivial duties? Do our very reports and statistics, so much the same year after year, rise up to judge us?

I do not think so. On the contrary, when we look a little deeper I am glad that the Church hasn't changed at the heart of its business; glad that the sins and sadness and the suffering of men do not fundamentally alter the Church's program, which was and is always one of redemption and comfort; glad that the pattern of these two journals, which report the work of the Diocese, has not greatly altered.

Underneath these figures—baptisms in 1918, in 1952, what is the meaning? Souls for whom Christ died reborn into His redeeming fellowship! Holy Communion in 1918, in 1952, what is the meaning? "The strengthening and refreshing of our souls by the body and blood of Christ as our bodies are by the bread and wine." So many Sunday Schools in 1918 and 1952—what does it mean but the Church's nurture and care of those committed to her trust, that they may know the truth as it is in Jesus. These and other duties of our Church life, performed though they be through the instrumentality of imperfect human beings, yet they are tasks divinely ordained, purposed to meet the needs of man's spirit for redemption through faith in Jesus Christ.

We cannot withdraw from the world. It is our world, our sinful generation. We must ever be a part of it, its pain, its fear, its sin, and God grant more and more, its penitence. No one is wise enough on the plane of human events to know the answer of tomorrow or tomorrow's morrow. God only knows. But this one thing we do know, and to this we must hold with confidence: that the essential tasks of our priesthood in the Church, clergymen and laymen alike wherever our vocation and ministry, these tasks are ordained of God for man's salvation and for God's victory. They change only in outward circumstance, not in spiritual content. I am glad that God, through His Holy Spirit, still dwells with men, grateful that He has called us, all of us, to serve with Him in His Church, the Church that constant will remain.

Let us then be at our duties that the Church gives us; in this Council, or when we return to our parishes, knowing that our labors are not in vain in the Lord; knowing that the cup of cold water given in Christ's name, the child taught in Christ's name, the sermon written in Christ's name, the vestry-man's duty done in Christ's name—these are the blessed things of life to which God, the everlasting Father, calls us in His Church.

Amid all the changes and chances of this mortal life may our hearts surely there be fixed where true joys are to be found—and may the God of hope fill you with all joy in believing and in serving.

Several resolutions were presented and referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

Mr. Lewis C. Williams presented the report of the Commission on the Diocesan Library, as follows:

The Diocese has at the Mayo Memorial Church House several thousand volumes of books on theological and allied subjects. This collection was started by a bequest from Thomas J. Packard and to it many other collections of books have been added. There is no proper space to put them where they can be used and for that reason many contemplated gifts are being withheld.

We repeat again as in the 1951 report that there should be an adequate library space with proper cataloging according to the method such as is provided by the Library of Congress cards and index. Then a trained librarian should be employed capable of making the books available to the clergy and church members.

We recommend the following resolution:

Resolved, That the House Committee of the Mayo Memorial Church House and the Bishops' Building Fund be requested to give consideration to the serious need for proper library space in making plans for the renovation and more efficient use of the Mayo Memorial Church House.

The resolution in this report was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

The Rev. Francis B. Rhein presented the report of the Committee on Credentials as follows:

The Committee on Credentials has examined the list of Lay Delegates and Alternate Delegates and found it in order, with the following exceptions:

St. Paul's Church, Alexandria.

Epiphany Church, Richmond.

St. John's Church, Richmond.

which churches claim representation on the basis of total communicants listed, rather than active communicants listed.

The Committee recommends that the Chancellor of the Diocese rule pro tem on this representation and that the delegates not be seated until after such ruling be laid down and that the matter be further laid before the Committee on Canons that Canon II be revised to clarify parish representation.

St. Paul's Church, Essex.

Emmanuel Chapel, Boyce.

will gain representation upon the passage of the proposed amendment to the Constitution granting representation to each church in one parish where such is requested.

The Committee places the following resolution before Council:

Be it Resolved, That the delegates of said churches be seated pending the passage of the proposed canon.

Action on this report was suspended to hear the second reading of the amendment to the Constitution. The amendment is as follows:

Amend paragraph (a) of Section 1, Article III of the Constitution by adding at the end the following sentence:

"In any rural parish having two well-established congregations in different communities, both of which fulfill the requirements for mission churches, but under one parish vestry, if the normal course of dividing the parish by the erection of a new parish cannot wisely be followed, the vestry may elect two lay delegates, one representing each congregation, instead of electing one delegate only as representative of the whole parish; provided that this permission to elect two delegates shall only be effective after permission of the Council of the Diocese has previously been given."

On motion, duly seconded, the amendment was adopted.

The Council then gave permission to St. Paul's Church, Essex County, and Emmanuel Chapel, Boyce, to send delegates, and their representatives were seated.

The Rev. A. C. Tucker requested permission for Beckford Parish to elect two delegates to Council. It was moved that this be referred to the Committee on New Parishes.

Bishop Goodwin then introduced the Rev. John J. Lloyd, missionary to Japan. Mr. Lloyd spoke concerning the unparalleled opportunity for our Church in Japan. This opportunity is the vacuum created in the minds of the Japanese people as a result of their awareness that the Emperor is not a god. He raised the question—"What is our Church doing to meet this opportunity?" and after showing that our Church has only a fraction of the number of clergy that other denominations have, he said, "I shall not attempt to interpret this for you but raise another question—What does God have to say to you about this?" The Bishop thanked Mr. Lloyd and apologized for the press of business which limited his time.

Mr. Turner Arrington presented a resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

The Rev. John Page Williams presented the report on Church Schools and spoke briefly on it. (See Appendix.)

Mrs. Henry P. Taylor, Diocesan President of the Woman's Auxiliary, read the report of the Woman's Auxiliary. (See Appendix.)

At this point Mr. Archibald G. Robertson, Chancellor of the Diocese, presented his ruling on the definition of the word

"communicant" so that action could be taken on the report of the Committee on Credentials. He rules that the meaning of the term "communicant" in the Constitution and Canons should be interpreted "active communicant."

The Rev. Mr. Harp moved that the delegates of the churches under dispute—St. Paul's Church, Alexandria; Epiphany Church, Henrico Parish; St. John's Church, Henrico Parish—be seated and given a vote for this Council. This was seconded by Mr. Womble. After considerable discussion this motion was passed.

The Rev. Mr. Harp presented a proposed canonical change. It was referred to the Committee on Canons.

Dr. Brydon reported for the Committee on New Parishes:

Your Committee has considered the petition of the congregation of Immanuel Church, Old Church, in St. Paul's Parish, Hanover County, for a division of St. Paul's Parish and the erection of a new parish to be called "Old Church Parish."

The petition is in proper canonical shape and all canonical requirements have been complied with.

Your Committee unanimously recommend that the petition be granted and the new parish of Old Church be thereby formed.

The petition describes the parish boundary between the proposed Old Church Parish and the remaining St. Paul's Parish as follows:

The line of division is a straight line starting at the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad bridge across the Chickahominy River at Ellerson, Virginia, passing through the Salem Presbyterian Church at Studley, and terminating at the Pamunkey River. The territory to be included in the proposed Old Church Parish would be all that part of the present St. Paul's Parish which lies east and south of the said line.

The recommendation of the Committee was adopted, thereby establishing Old Church Parish.

The Committee reported on the request of the rector of Beckford Parish for that parish to elect two delegates to Council as follows:

Your Committee has considered also the request of the Rev. A. Campbell Tucker, Rector of Beckford Parish, that the vestry of that parish be given permission to elect two lay delegates to the Annual Council instead of one representing the whole parish.

Your Committee is unanimously of the opinion that this permission must be formally requested in writing by the vestry of the parish, and not by an individual rector or vestryman without first securing the action of the vestry.

In making such request, a vestry should set forth the reasons which, in the opinion of its members, justify the request.

Mr. Charles Davison moved that permission be granted to Peckford Parish to elect an additional delegate from St. Andrew's Church, Mt. Jackson, if all the requirements are met. This motion was seconded and passed with but one dissenting voice.

The Rev. Thomas G. Faulkner, Jr., reported on the Virginia Council of Churches. (See Appendix.)

Mr. Faulkner read an excerpt from a letter from the Rev. Minor Miller, Executive Secretary of the Virginia Council of Churches, as follows:

Beyond all doubt, the Weekday School Movement has gained immensely by reason of the recent opinion. Even if we should some time have to do all the work in non-public classrooms, we have still gained immensely.

Mr. Lewis C. Williams read the report of the Committee on Finance. (See Appendix.)

After a brief explanation he moved the adoption of the Diocesan Expense Assessment Budget. (See Appendix.) This was seconded and passed.

Bishop Goodwin announced that the Council was now sitting as the Missionary Council of the Diocese, and he asked Bishop Gibson to report for the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society. (See Appendix.)

The first ballot for clerical deputies to the General Convention was taken.

The Rev. Robert R. Brown then presented the following resolution from the Budget Committee that had been approved by the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society:

Whereas, the members of the Budget Committee are gravely concerned over the fact that such a large share of available funds is being appropriated to parishes and congregations which have received substantial aid for a long period of years and which are serving relatively a small total of communicants; and

Whereas, there are areas of the Diocese, the population of which have undergone tremendous expansion and are desperately in need of church facilities for which funds are not available; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Budget Committee that every possible step should be taken to reduce as rapidly as possible the appropriations of funds to parishes and congregations where, over a considerable period of years little progress has been made so that such funds can be used where they can help in serving much greater numbers.

This action of the Budget Committee was approved.

Mr. Brown then presented a second resolution from the Executive Committee. Mr. Edmund Campbell suggested some changes that were accepted by Mr. Brown.

The Rev. Mr. Dunbar moved the addition of the words "from every Convocation" and the change of date to April, 1953. These amendments were voted on separately and both were defeated. Mr. Brown presented an amended form of the resolution as follows:

Whereas, it is the consensus of the Diocesan Committee on the Budget that it has been most difficult to determine from the presentation of the various items for inclusion in the Diocesan Budget for 1953 whether maximum effectiveness is being secured from the amounts proposed for appropriation.

Whereas, the Bishops have expressed to the Committee their concern with regard to the organization of the various organizational units of the Diocese; and

Whereas, a study necessary to resolve the questions in the minds of the Bishops and this Committee will require a great deal of time and careful effort; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Bishop be requested to constitute an ad hoc committee composed of clergy and laymen to thoroughly study the organization and administration of the Diocese and related matters, and to report its findings and recommendations to the earliest possible meeting of the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society but not later than the January, 1953, meeting; and that the Executive Committee recommend that the Council (1) request the Finance Committee of the Diocese to join with the ad hoc committee in this study; (2) that the Council empower the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society, after consultation with the Finance Committee, to adopt such recommendations of the ad hoc committee as it deems expedient and to put such adopted recommendations into effect at such times as it shall determine; and (3) moreover, that a mimeographed report of its action be sent to the clergy and delegates of the Council.

This amended resolution was carried. The report of the first ballot for clerical deputies to the General Convention showed that no nominee had received the number necessary for election.

Mr. George Humrickhouse, who had voted for the Rule of Order governing the election of deputies to the General Convention, moved that the Rule of Order be reconsidered. This was seconded and passed by the necessary two-thirds majority.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the Rule of Order as adopted at the morning session for this election be rescinded and that elections be held by Section 5 of the Rules of Order as heretofore.

Mr. Charles Davison, Jr., moved that the bottom nine be dropped from the ballot. This was seconded. After much discussion it was moved, seconded and passed that this motion be tabled.

It was moved and seconded that we continue in session until 6:15. This was passed, 103 to 52.

The following ballots were then taken: Committee on Finance, Standing Committee, Chancellor of the Diocese, clerical representatives on the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the Secretary cast the ballot for the persons nominated by the Convocations as representatives on the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society as follows:

Albemarle Convocation—Mr. J. Leigh Hawkins and the Rev. David H. Lewis, Jr.

Rappahannock Valley Convocation—The Rev. Thomas G. Faulkner, Jr., and Mr. F. F. Chandler.

Piedmont Convocation—The Rev. Edward E. Tate and Mr. Robert V. H. Duncan.

Richmond Convocation—The Rev. Reno S. Harp, Jr., and Mr. Russell Wooten.

Valley Convocation—The Rev. Harold B. W. Peters and Mr. John Clemens.

The ballot was cast and they were declared elected.

Chilton, were elected by a voice vote and the Chairman was instructed to cast the unanimous ballot of the Council for them. The ballot was cast and they were declared elected.

Kevin, Ph. D., the Rev. J. P. H. Mason, the Rev. Jaquelin J. Ambler, the Rev. Thomas G. Faulkner, Jr., the Rev. Rufus J. Womble, Mr. Charles Tompkins and Mr. Walker Florance. By unanimous consent of the Council the Secretary cast the ballot for the election of these men, and they were declared elected.

The Committee nominated for the Trustees of the Blue Ridge School the Rev. Dudley A. Boogher and Mrs. C. Bernard Bailey. With the unanimous consent of the Council the Secretary cast the ballot for the nomination of these persons for the election of one of them as a Trustee by the present Trustees of the Blue Ridge School. They were declared nominated.

The Committee nominated Mr. David N. Rust to succeed himself as a Trustee of Stuart Hall. By the unanimous consent of the Council the Secretary cast the vote for the election of Mr. Rust as a Council nominee to succeed himself on the Board of Trustees of Stuart Hall. He was declared the nominee.

Mr. E. N. Montague reported for the Committee on the Budget and moved the adoption of the budget. This was seconded. The amendment to use "Assistance" to the Bishops instead of Archdeacon was accepted in designating one item. The Rev. Mr. Matthews made the substitute motion that the budget be considered item by item. The Rev. Mr. John G. Scott moved that this motion be laid on the table. This was seconded and passed. The Rev. Mr. Dunbar spoke to the item on Church Schools and moved that it be dropped from the budget. This was seconded. It was moved and seconded that this motion be laid on the table and this motion was passed. The budget was then adopted in toto.

It was announced that the Rev. Messrs. S. B. Chilton and Churchill J. Gibson had been elected clerical deputies to the General Convention and that Messrs. Blake T. Newton and Albert A. Smoot had been elected lay deputies to the General Convention.

The second ballots for clerical and lay deputies to the General Convention were taken just before the Council adjourned for supper at 6:25 P. M.

Mr. Edmund Campbell spoke on the Bishop's Building Fund and offered the following resolution:

Whereas, pursuant to direction of this Council several years ago, a Diocesan-wide survey was made with the cooperation of the National Church which disclosed or emphasized great missionary needs within this Diocese for capital funds for new churches and expansion of Sunday Schools; and

Whereas, as a result of this survey this Council at its last annual meeting directed the conduct of a Diocesan-wide capital funds campaign for $1,300,000 which has been known as the Bishops' Building Fund Campaign, designed to help meet the more pressing needs shown by the survey; and

Whereas, pledges to the Bishops' Building Fund to date total approximately $400,000, and events of the past year have shown increasing urgency that our minimum goal of $1,300,000 be reached if this Diocese is to be in a position to supply these essential minimum home mission needs; therefore, be it

Resolved (1) The Council reaffirms the need of the Bishops' Building Fund and its determination to carry the campaign through to a successful conclusion. To this end the Council requests:

(2) That all churches of the Diocese join in a united Every Member Canvass this fall at a time to be named by joint action of the Field Board and the Bishops' Building Fund Committee, and that in this canvass all churches be asked to combine with solicitation for their own church budget renewed consideration for contributions to the B-B-F, each vestry to have the responsibility of determining the manner in which the approach shall be made to the individual members of their parish.

(3) That there be solicitation of "special gifts prospects" in each Convocation in cooperation with the special gifts division of the B-B-F Campaign Committee prior to the regular Every Member Canvass.

(4) That the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society be authorized to recommend to each church a goal for its equitable share of the $1,300,000 Bishops' Building Fund.

(5) That the Bishop, in consultation with the Field Board and the B-B-F Committee, appoint a United Every Member Canvass Campaign Chairman and committee for the current year.

Mr. Albert Smoot spoke on the summary of the united Every Member Canvass prepared by the Wells organization. (See Appendix.)

Council paused at 12:00 noon for prayers conducted by the Rev. S. Russell Wilson.

After prayers Mr. Smoot continued his report on the B-B-F.

Result of the first ballot for alternate clerical deputies to General Convention was reported. The Rev. Messrs. W. Leigh Ribble and Herbert A. Donovan were declared elected.

Motion was made and carried that the Secretary be instructed to cast a ballot for the two next highest on the list for alternate clerical deputies to General Convention, they being the Rev. Messrs. Robert R. Frown and W. R. Bowie. The Chair declared them elected.

The Chair announced that "according to Apostolic custom," the order of precedence of the Rev. Messrs. Brown and Bowie had been decided by lot and that Mr. Brown was third alternate and Dr. Bowie fourth alternate.

The result of the first ballot for alternate lay delegates to General Convention was reported. Messrs. Edmund D. Campbell, B. Powell Harrison and James P. Massie were elected.

Motion was made, seconded and carried that the Secretary be instructed to cast the vote for Mr. George R. Humrickhouse as fourth alternate lay delegate, he having the next highest number of votes. The ballot was cast and Mr. Humrickhouse was declared elected.

Discussion then continued on the B-B-F by Mr. Tennant Bryan, who was followed by Mr. Powell Harrison, who spoke on the success of the B-B-F in St. James' Church, Leesburg.

Consideration was given to each of the five parts of the resolution on the B-B-F, each in turn being passed.

Motion was made, seconded and carried that the resolution be adopted in its entirety.

The Council recessed for lunch.

Bishop Goodwin called the Council to order at 1:45 P. M.

The report of the Committee on Constitution and Canons was submitted by the Rev. W. Leigh Ribble.

The following resolution from the Committee on the State of the Church submitted to the Committee on Canons was ruled as not being in proper canonical form for consideration:

Resolved, That if a parochial report be not received at the Diocesan Office within thirty days of the date due, the offending parish, separate congregation or mission church shall lose its clerical and lay vote in any Council that meets during the year of the offense.

The Committee on Canons presented the following proposed amendment:

Resolved, That Article III, Section 1, paragraph c, of the Constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia be amended by inserting after "the members of the Committee on Finance, as the same are or may hereafter be constituted by Canon" the words "and the President of the Woman's Auxiliary of this Diocese," so that this paragraph shall read:

"(c) The lay members of the Standing Committee, the Chancellor of the Diocese, the members of the Committee on Finance, as the same are or may hereafter be constituted by Canon, and the President of the Woman's Auxiliary of this Diocese shall be members ex-officio of the Council."

The Committee stated that while they were desirous of expressing their deepest gratitude to the Woman's Auxiliary for its magnificent contribution to the life and work of the Church in the Diocese of Virginia, they recommended that this amendment be not adopted.

It was moved and seconded that the recommendation of the Committee be accepted. The motion was lost. It was then moved that the amendment be adopted. A discussion followed. The previous question was called for. A motion to lay the call for the previous question on the table was lost. The previous question was passed. A vote was then taken on the amendment and passed as the first reading for a constitutional change.

Mr. Ribble read the following proposed amendment to the Constitution:

Amendment to the Constitution, to be numbered Article XIX, with changes in the numbering of other articles to be made accordingly:

Whenever the word "communicant (s)" is used in the Constitution and Canons it shall be understood that it means "active communicant (s)" and shall be so construed.

The Committee recommended the adoption of this amendment. On motion the amendment was laid on the table.

Mr. Ribble read the following proposed amendment:

Resolved, That Diocesan Canon IX, Section 2, paragraph (a), be amended by inserting after "the President of the Woman's Auxiliary of this Diocese" the words "the President of the Episcopal Churchmen of the Diocese of Virginia," so that this paragraph shall read:

(a) The members ex-officio shall be the Bishop, the Bishop Coadjutor, if there be one, the Bishop Suffragan, if there be one, the Archdeacon of the Blue Ridge, the Associate or Assistant Archdeacon of the Blue Ridge, if there be one, the Treasurer of the Diocese, the President of the Woman's Auxiliary of this Diocese, the President of the Episcopal Churchmen of the Diocese of Virginia, and members of the corporation known as "The Trustees of the Diocesan Missionary Society of Virginia."

The Committee recommended that this amendment be adopted. On motion duly seconded the amendment was canonically adopted.

Mr. Ribble read the following proposed addition to Canon IX: Change Canon IX, Section 5, Sub-section (b), paragraph I, by the addition of the following sentence at the end of the paragraph:

"In addition to the above members of the Board, the Dean of the Church Schools in the Diocese of Virginia shall be an ex-officio member."

The Committee recommended the adoption of this amendment. On motion duly seconded the recommendation of the Committee was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Ribble read the following amendment proposed as a substitute for Canon XVII, Section 3:

In the area of the city of Richmond and in the area of Alexandria, Arlington and Fairfax, as far as the same shall be within this Diocese, where these areas extend over and into the territory of two or more parishes, the Parish Council of the Richmond area shall include the parishes of Henrico, Tuckahoe and Varina; the Parish Council of the Alexandria, Arlington and Fairfax area shall include the parishes of Arlington, Fairfax and Langley. Other parishes adjacent to the areas may be added to these Parish Councils upon the mutual agreement of all parishes concerned.

The Committee recommended that Section 3, Canon XVII, be repealed and that the proposed amendment be adopted as a substitute. On motion duly seconded and passed the whole matter was laid on the table. The Rev. Francis W. Hayes, Jr., moved that the Bishop appoint a committee to study this question and to report to Council in 1953, which was passed.

The Bishop appointed on this Committee the Rev. A. C. Muller, the Rev. G. MacLaren Brydon and Mr. A. J. Brent.

Mr. Ribble read the proposed amendment to Canon XVII as follows:

Resolved, That Canon XVII of Parish Councils be amended as follows:

In Section 3, line 1, strike out the words "municipal area" and insert "metropolitan area, consisting of the territory within the corporate limits of a city and the suburban sections outside of and adjacent to the corporate limits." In line 2, strike out the word "shall" and insert "may," so that this section shall read:

Section 3. In every case where a metropolitan area consisting of the territory within the corporate limits of a city and the suburban sections outside of and adjacent to the corporate limits, shall extend over or into the territory of two or more parishes, the Parish Council may include all congregations and missions within the bounds of the city and its suburbs so far as the same shall be within this Diocese.

The Committee recommended that this amendment be not adopted. On motion duly seconded the recommendation of the Committee was approved.

Mr. Ribble read the following proposed new section of Canon XVII, to be numbered Section 4, as follows:

Every organized Parish Council which meets regularly shall, at the discretion of that Parish Council, nominate to the Council one clerical and one lay delegate to be members of the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society.

The Committee recommended that this amendment be not adopted. On motion duly seconded recommendation of the Committee was approved.

The report of the Committee on Resolution was presented by the Rev. Theodore Evans, D. D. Dr. Evans stated that the reference from the Committee on the State of the Church was not considered by his Committee, due to the findings of the Committee on Canons.

The following resolution coming from the Board of Trustees of Stuart Hall was read:

Be it Resolved by the Council of the Diocese of Virginia, the Councils of the Diocese of Southern Virginia and the Diocese of Southwestern Virginia concurring:

First: That it is advisable that the charter of Stuart Hall, as heretofore amended, be further amended in the following respects:

1. That the first paragraph of Section 1, as amended February 12, 1921, be amended so as to read as follows:

The management and control of Stuart Hall (subject to the provisions hereinafter contained for the appointment of the two alumnae trustees) shall be vested, as to one-third thereof in the Diocese of Virginia, as to one-third thereof in the Diocese of Southern Virginia, and as to one-third thereof in the Diocese of Southwestern Virginia, the same to be exercised by a Board of Trustees to consist of seventeen members."

2. That the amendment of Section 2 of the charter granted by the State Corporation Commission June 4, 1929, be further amended so as to read as follows:

"Two members of the Board of Trustees shall be alumnae of Stuart Hall and shall be elected on the nomination of the Stuart Hall Alumnae Association. They need not be residents of any of the said Dioceses. One of the first alumnae trustees shall be elected for a term of two years and the other for a term of four years, and thereafter the alumnae trustees shall be elected for a term of four years.

"The remaining twelve trustees shall be elected by the Board, four from each of said Dioceses, in each case upon the nomination to be trustee of the Council of the Diocese from which such trustee is elected.

"Any vacancy caused by death or resignation may be filled by the Board of Trustees until a nomination thereto is made by the Council or Alumnae Association, entitled so to nominate and an election had, such election to be for the unexpired term of the person so dying or resigning.

"Said remaining twelve trustees now in office shall assign themselves to four classes, one trustee from each Diocese in each class, and their terms of office shall so expire that from and after the next regular election of trustees the term of office of at least one class shall expire yearly.

"Successors to the trustees now in office shall be elected each for a term of four years."

Second: That a certified copy of this resolution shall be delivered to said Board of Trustees and that said Board of Trustees be authorized to take appropriate action to secure the granting of the said amendments to the charter of Stuart Hall by the State Corporation Commission.

The Committee recommended the adoption of this resolution. The motion was seconded and adopted.

Dr. Evans read the following resolution from the Library Committee:

Resolved, That the House Committee of the Mayo Memorial Church House and the Bishops' Building Fund be requested to give consideration to the serious need for proper library space in making plans for the renovation and more efficient use of the Mayo Memorial Church House.

The Committee moved the adoption. This was seconded and passed.

Dr. Evans read the following resolution:

"Be it Resolved, That the Diocese of Virginia, in Annual Council assembled, this 28th day of May, 1952, views with great concern the actions and utterances of the National Council of Churches and its representatives with reference to controversial economic and social litigation and legislation;

That it is the sincere conviction of this Diocese that such activity, utterances and course of conduct is doing far more harm than good by giving rise to dissension and division of opinion among the churches composing the Council and that the primary and basic objectives of the Council are being thereby impaired.

That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Presiding Bishop, who is now President of the National Council of Churches, with the earnest request that he use his great influence to put an immediate and permanent stop to such activities on the part of the National Council of Churches."

The Committee recommended that this resolution be rejected. Their recommendation was seconded. Several persons spoke on the motion. The previous question was seconded, moved and passed. The vote was then taken on the recommendation of the Committee that the resolution be rejected. This was carried.

The Rev. R. R. Brown presented the following resolution regarding the Episcopal Churchnews, which was adopted by the Council:

Whereas, the Southern Churchman has been successfully transformed into the Episcopal Churchnews, a magazine which is dedicated to the full objective news coverage of the whole Church; and

Whereas, the editorial policies of the Episcopal Churchnews is to be "Catholic for every truth of God, Protestant against every error of man"; and

Whereas, the Episcopal Churchnews has received the most enthusiastic reception in every area of the Church's life; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this, the 157th meeting of the Council of the Diocese of Virginia, record its deep satisfaction with the aims which govern the Episcopal Churchnews; and be it further

Resolved, That the clergy of this Diocese offer their utmost support to the perpetuation of this magazine and its policies by urging their respective congregations to a similar support through subscriptions.

The Rev. Herbert A. Donovan presented the following resolution, thanking Christ Church for its hospitality to the 157th Annual Council, which was passed by a standing vote:

Resolved, That the grateful thanks of the clerical and lay delegates of this 157th Annual Council of the Diocese of Virginia be extended to the rector and vestry of Christ Church, Winchester, its communicants and members, and particularly to the women of the parish for their gracious hospitality in providing and offering every aid to make this a most pleasant, happy and useful Council. Further, be it

Resolved, That the rector and vestry of Christ Church, Winchester, be asked to extend our grateful appreciation and thanks for the many courtesies extended by the people of Winchester, particularly the Mayor and his council, the chief of police and all others who added to the ease and comfort of our stay in this city.

The Rev. Albert Muller asked that the cooperation of the radio and press people of Winchester be also noted and that these people be thanked by the Council, which was done.

The following report of the Commission on Revision of Parish Lines was submitted:

Your Commission beg to report that no matter has been presented to our Commission for its consideration, and we request that the Commission be dissolved.

The Commission was dissolved.

Mr. Eastman presented the following resolution, which was seconded and adopted:

Following a recommendation of the Commission on Church Music, I move that the Commission be increased to nine members, to consist of five clergymen and four lay members.

Be it Further Resolved, That the clergy and laity of the Diocese be, and they hereby are, urged to undertake serious study of the subjects proposed by the Diocesan Commission on Church Unity.

Be it Further Resolved, That the 157th Annual Council of the Diocese of Virginia places on record its confidence in the Joint Commission on Approaches to Unity, and of the Commission's attempts to find ways by which inter-communion may be effected by the Episcopal and Methodist Churches, on the basis of the Lambeth Quadrilateral, as a step toward the organic union of those two churches; and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Chairman of the Joint Commission on Approaches to Unity.

A resolution from the Commission requesting an appropriation was referred to the Committee on Finance. The Committee on Finance reported that they had considered the following resolution presented by the Commission on Church Unity and recommended that a sum not to exceed $200.00 be appropriated for this purpose:

Be it Resolved, That the Diocesan Commission on Church Unity be authorized to provide the ministers, vestrymen and officers of the Woman's Auxiliary such material as may be made available by the Joint Commission on Approaches to Unity, and that the Treasurer of the Diocese be authorized to pay for the same.

The recommendation of the Committee was approved by Council.

The Bishop appointed the Rev. Frank H. Moss, Jr., to succeed the Rev. J. Manly Cobb and Mr. Claude Richmond to succeed Mr. C. Braxton Valentine on the Commission on Church Unity.

The report of the Armed Forces Commission was submitted by title. (See Appendix.)

The report of the Episcopal High School was submitted by title. (See Appendix.)

The report of the Margaret Paxton Home was submitted by title. (See Appendix.)

The report of the Liturgical Commission was given as follows:

At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society held on January 22, 1952, the following motion, regarding the establishment of a Diocesan Liturgical Commission was moved and adopted:

"Whereas, the Standing Liturgical Commission of General Convention is requesting the Church to offer its suggestions and to recommend desired changes and improvements in the Book of Common Prayer; and

"Whereas, liturgical changes and reforms can only be rightly accomplished when the entire Church takes active interest and receives full hearing, therefore, be it and "Resolved, That the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society request the Bishop to appoint a Diocesan Liturgical Commission whose work shall be to assemble, record and advance the desires and recommendations of the church people in this Diocese in matters of changes in the Book of Common Prayer, and to keep the people of this Diocese abreast of the proposals for such changes continually being made."

Subsequently, such a Commission was appointed temporarily by the Bishop to act until the meeting of Diocesan Council in 1952, at which time the Council should be requested to establish officially such a Commission for the Diocese.

The Commission has held two meetings. The first was for the purpose of organization. The second was to study and consider, at the request of the Bishop, the Standing Liturgical Commission's Report on Intinction, and to report our findings to the Bishop. This report has been made.

The Commission further discussed ways and means of bringing to the attention and study of the clergy and laity of the Diocese the Standing Liturgical Commission's Prayer Book Studies, which look forward to Prayer Book reform and revision.

We request that the Diocesan Liturgical Commission be endorsed and continued by action of Council, and further, that $300.00 be allocated for expenses for the year 1953.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the resolution contained in the report be adopted, thereby setting up a Diocesan Liturgical Commission. The Bishop appointed on this Commission the following persons who had been serving on the former Liturgical Commission: The Rev. J. J. Ambler, the Rev. Thom W. Blair, the Rev. C. J. Gibson, D. D., the Rev. Gary K. Price, the Rev. Francis B. Rhein, the Rev. George F. Tittmann and the Rev. William Macbeth.

It was moved that the Architectural Committee be continued, as recommended to the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society. This was passed.

The Liturgical Committee requested a $300.00 appropriation. This matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

The following report of the Commission on Parish Council was submitted by title:

Your Commission to this time has not taken such action as will make it possible for a recommendation to be herein made, primarily because its Convener, the Rev. John A. Gray, has departed this Diocese and the vacancy thereby created has not been filled.

Your Commission therefore requests that it may be continued for one additional year with a direction that it report to the 158th Annual Council of the Diocese of Virginia and that a substitute be appointed to fill the vacancy aforesaid.

The Commission was continued, with the Rev. Albert C. Muller appointed to fill the vacancy and the Rev. Francis W. Hayes, Jr., and Mr. Charles M. Davison, Jr., were added to the Committee.

There was no report from the Committee on Corporations and it was moved and passed that this Committee be discontinued.

The following report of the Committee on Colonial Churches was submitted by title:

The Convener begs to report that because of adventitious circumstances the Commission on Colonial Churches has not been convened, and requests that the Commission be reappointed with increased membership.

As it was reported that Mrs. Charles Beatty Moore had moved out of the Diocese, she was dropped from the Committee. Mr. Gordon Lewis and Mr. Richard C. Richardson were appointed on it.

The following report of the Committee on Length of Council was presented and accepted by the Council:

At the last Annual Council of the Diocese a resolution was passed referring to a special committee the question of the length of the Annual Diocesan Council, with the suggestion that three days be given to it instead of two. The Bishop appointed on this committee Bishop Mason and the Rev. Samuel B. Chilton.

Your Committee is aware of the difficulty of transacting all the business of the Council in the short period of two days; on the other hand, it is felt that it would be very difficult to hold the delegates for three days and that a Council lasting three days would seriously complicate the problem of entertainment for the host parish. Your Committee recommends:

- (1) That the present plan of Council lasting two days be continued.
- (2) That the persons responsible for planning the future program of Council give careful consideration to ways and means of expediting the transaction of business in order that sufficient time may be given for the more important matters under consideration.

The following report of the Examining Chaplains was submitted by title:

Since the last Council the Board of Examining Chaplains has examined the following senior and middle class students in the Virginia Seminary: Seniors: Messrs. Jack Napier Eby, Oscar Baughman Eddleton, Lloyd Rutherford Craighill, Jr., Philip Morton Gresham, Joseph William Pinder, Webster Tille Simons, Jr., Robert Stuart Seiler, Beverley Dandridge Tucker and Thomas Dabney Wellford. Middlers: Messrs. Allen Jones Green, Charles Powhatan Moncure and William Lee Williams.

Mr. Eugene Van Ness Goetchius, a senior from this Diocese in the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass., was examined by the Examining Chaplains of the Diocese of Massachusetts.

Mr. Lowell Beveridge and Mr. Harry J. Raines, special students not presently in seminaries, were also examined.

In addition, several deacons who had not completed their examinations were examined as required.

The results of the examinations were reported to the Bishop as each candidate satisfactorily completed the requirements.

The following report of the Church Pension Fund Committee was submitted by title:

Mr. Gordon Feary, Secretary of the Church Pension Fund, reports that as of March 1, 1952, there were 119 clergymen employed in this Diocese. Fourteen of them are members of the faculty of the Virginia Theological Seminary. Some of the 119 are not canonically connected with this Diocese.

In his report, Mr. Feary says: "You will note that there are no unpaid assessments due in the Diocese prior to January 1, 1952." There are, however, four clergy serving in the Diocese who have arrearages in their payments to the Church Pension Fund. Those arrearages are not due in this Diocese and they have no adverse effects on pensions within the Diocese.

The following report of the Committee on Church Property was submitted by title:

At the 156th Annual Council in 1951 a Commission on Titles of Property was appointed to clarify the legal status of certain properties in the Diocese. In the carrying out of their assignment they referred to the Committee on Church Property, information and recommendations regarding the five following properties:

- (1) Grace Church property, Granville, Charles City County. A title report on this property showed that neither the Diocese nor the parish had a claim on it. However, the Bishop wrote and asked the vestry of Westover Parish that, if possible, the property might be taken down so that it would not stand as a reflection on the Episcopal Church.

(2) A title report submitted by the Commission was placed in the hands of the Chairman of the Piedmont Strategy Committee. Within the last week the Chairman of this Committee has requested that they be allowed to defer a judgment on the use or disposition of this property until further surveys in this area could determine whether or not this piece of property might be valuable for a new church in that area. The Chairman of this Committee still holds the title report.

(3) Two lots in Shenandoah, Page County. The vestry of Luray Parish was contacted and finds they have a legal right to this property and are now taking steps to dispose of these lots.

(4) St. Thomas' Church property, Middletown, Frederick County. A title report on this property contains the opinion of Mr. J. Sloan Kuykendall, an attorney, that the church owns this property. This statement is somewhat ambiguous. St. Thomas' Parish, in which this property is situated, has no canonical organization. There are four or five members of the Episcopal Church who live in the little town. In the opinion of the lawyer the Diocese could proceed to ask for the appointment of trustees by the Judge of the Circuit Court of Frederick County and then act under Canon 4 to dispose of the property. However, because there are a few members of St. Thomas' Church still living in Middletown, he would hesitate to act contrary to our wishes even though the church property is in very bad condition. Therefore, I requested two of our clergymen, the Rev. Henry G. Lane and the Rev. Jas. A. Figg, to visit these members and ascertain their wishes. They did so and the persons contacted promised to let them know what their wishes in the matter were. We have received no word from them and can, therefore, report at this time no final action.

(5) Mission Chapel property near Upperville, Loudoun County. The Chancellor of the Diocese informs us that, in his opinion, nothing further should be done to clear title to this small parcel of ground. If the present owner, Major General S. C. Cumming, desires to perfect title to this property, he should have the title of the property examined and then ask the Church authorities to take whatever action may be necessary to clear his title. In the meantime the Chancellor does not think the Church authorities should commit themselves to any course of action.

The report of Stuart Hall was submitted by title. (See Appendix.)

The report of the Protestant Episcopal Church Home for Ladies was submitted by title. (See Appendix.)

The report of the Virginia Seminary was submitted by title. (See Appendix.)

The following report of the American Bible Society was presented by Bishop Tucker, and it was moved, seconded and passed that this Committee be continued and that all of our people be urged to continue their support:

Bishop Goodwin in his pastoral address last May said, "I trust that another year will find this Diocese as ready to support the publishing of the Bible as it is now worthily supporting the training of its ministry." He had just stated, "One hundred and five parishes gave $9,900 on Theological Sunday. Fifty parishes gave $887 on Bible Sunday."

We are sorry to have to report that this hope of our Bishop's has not been fulfilled. Some congregations have contributed very generously, one congregation in Richmond has contributed $136.53 and $96.99, respectively, for the past two years. Some of our smallest missions have contributed $10.00 or more per year. These are mentioned only to illustrate what some are doing and to encourage others to do likewise.

Mr. Chilton reports for the year 1951 that fifty-two congregations contributed $848.38. This is a few dollars less than for the year 1950. We feel certain that as only one-fourth of our congregations made any effort last year, many more will do so this year.

May we remind you that the General Convention of 1949 passed a resolution urging every congregation to take a special offering, and that our Bishops have expressed themselves rather strongly that each congregation of our Diocese will do so. And that finally we are acting under an authorization from you.

We therefore urge you to take a special offering on Bible Sunday, or to set aside a definite amount in your budget for this most important missionary work.

Bishop Goodwin announced that Mr. B. Powell Harrison has accepted the Chairmanship of the B-B-F for this fall's drive.

The Chair called for the consideration of new business. Dr. A. C. Zabriskie moved a reconsideration of an amendment to the Rules of Order. This motion was lost.

Mr. Philip Sullivan presented the following resolution on Japan, which was moved, seconded and carried:

Resolved: It is the opinion of the Council of the Diocese of Virginia that in light of the unprecedented opportunity as well as vital significance of the work of our Church in Japan, we urge upon the National Council that it give urgent attention and take such steps necessary to enlarge such work at the earliest time possible.

Mr. Joseph Massie presented the following motion, which was seconded and carried:

Motion to have the Bishop of the Diocese appoint a committee from the Diocese to study the relation of the Diocese to St. Paul's Polytechnic Institute of Lawrenceville, Virginia, and to report back to the Bishop this year how much more the Diocese of Virginia could and should contribute to St. Paul's Polytechnic Institute, and recommendations as to the method the parishes should use in raising this additional money this year.

The Bishop read the following letter of invitation from St. James' Church, Richmond, inviting Council to meet there in 1953. This invitation was accepted:

The vestry of St. James, at its last meeting, voted unanimously to extend to the Council of the Diocese an invitation to hold its regular meeting in 1953 at St. James' Church.

I was instructed to inform you of this officially, which I do. To this I can add my assurance that the invitation is heartily given and that the Council will be most welcome at St. James'.

With the singing of hymn 495—Blest Be the Tie that Binds—and the benediction by the Bishop, Council was adjourned sine die.

FREDERICK D. GOODWIN, D. D., Bishop.
ROBERT F. GIPSON, JR., D. D., Suffragan Bishop.
SAMUEL B. CHILTON, Secretary.
WILLIAM FRANCIS BURKE, Assistant Secretary.
DAVID H. LEWIS, JR., Assistant Secretary.

III. REPORT OF THE DIOCESAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY

(a) Report of the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society

Article XVIII of our Constitution declares that all baptized members of the Church in this Diocese are a Missionary Society, whose object shall be to extend and support the missionary work of the Church. Thus this Diocese clearly and officially recognizes that the Christian Church is itself a missionary society and that its primary purpose under God is to evangelize, to seek and find those outside the Church and to bring them in where they may receive God's redeeming and saving grace.

We sit at this time as the responsible and representative members of that Missionary Society and hear the report of our Executive Committee and its Boards who have been charged with the management of our missionary affairs. In preparation for these reports, and especially the report of our Budget Committee, it is well to look at our work objectively in the light of our missionary purpose.

Statistics are far from a full criterion of the Church's missionary success, but they are revealing and significant. One year ago we actually had a slight decline in communicant strength in a period of growing population. That trend has now been turned and for the year last reported (1951) we increased in communicants by approximately 2%. The most encouraging gain is in our Sunday Schools, where we increased by 3,623, from 13,464 to 17,087, for a gain of 27%.

Looked at in another light, however, we have not been very active missionaries. It took 27 baptized members of the Church to produce 1 baptism. It took 17 active communicants to lead 1 person to confirmation. This means as individual Christians, and in many cases as parishes, we have forgotten or ignored our missionary purpose and obligation.

Yet we dare not forget. We are a missionary society. The Diocese of Virginia has throughout its history led the Episcopal Church in that concept and ideal. But we cannot really maintain our missionary ideal without acting generously and enthusiastically on the missionary idea. We must be missionaries in our lives and through our gifts—today more than ever before.

Your Executive Committee has had these thoughts in mind. It knows that for a diocese to be missionary it must both give beyond itself and expand within. It knows that for parishes to be missionary they also must do both.

The obligation beyond Virginia is recognized in an increased budget figure for the General Church, now set at $85,000. This is little more than our mathematical share. In the face of the world's need and the Church's opportunity and responsibility it is a sum which this Diocese should far exceed, and can exceed, if the parishes respond to a missionary ideal in their giving beyond themselves.

Last year (1951) the parishes accepted quotas totaling $214,000. They overpaid their acceptances by more than $5,000, making a total available for the missionary use of your Executive Committee of $219,000. From a financial point of view this is the way, and the only way, we can do more work. Over-payment of parish quotas will further missionary work both in this Diocese and in the world at large.

At the present time thirty-three clergymen are receiving all or part of their salaries from missionary funds, with allocations set aside for more clergy when cures now vacant can be filled. Your Executive Committee has become increasingly mindful of its responsibility in making these grants of missionary funds. It asks that they be productive either in progress toward full self-support, or in opening new fields of activity, or in serving an increasing number of people.

Progress is steadily being made. With capital funds ($100,000) borrowed without interest from the National Council, three new buildings were sponsored in the Piedmont Convocation: St. Andrew's, Arlington; St. Luke's, Wellington Villa, and St. Paul's, Bailey's Cross Roads. Already two are completed and are overflowing with new members.

Three aided cures reached full self-support this year. One was divided into two with no more cost. One completely new cure has been added: St. Peter's, Richmond. One additional clergyman will shortly be at work in the Archdeaconry of the Blue Ridge. Five new cures are developing with missionary funds supplying full-time student oversight this summer. All aided cures are asked to increase self-support by at least 10% annually and most of them are now doing so.

Unfortunately there has been some misunderstanding in this program of advance within the aided churches. Unhappily we permitted ourselves in years past to accept a pastoral responsibility for the whole geographical area of the Diocese without being sufficiently mindful of an equal or greater missionary responsibility. This is why we failed to grow. Now with shifting and increasing population, with opportunities for growth and service far exceeding our supply of men and money, we must use what we have in the most fruitful way. This is why every aided church has been asked to look more to its own resources and to become itself more missionary.

A parish without baptism or confirmation growth, or without a Sunday School, and we have some of both, should be aided by the Missionary Society certainly, for we must work everywhere. But such a parish should be aided for the purpose of getting new members and a Sunday School. Only so can we be true to our purpose and keep faith with those who give us missionary funds.

The reports of the Budget Committee and the various Boards of your Executive Committee will now be made. They should be received and judged as the activities of a Missionary Society. May we be mindful of our purpose, faithful in our responsibility, and courageous as we serve our missionary ideal. Only a militant church with militant members can be the medium of God's redeeming and saving grace in a world where other forces, godless forces, are aggressively militant and missionary.

ROBERT F. GIBSON, Suffragan Bishop.

EXPLANATION OF BUDGET

Quota for the General Church..... $ 85,000.00

The proposed budget for the program of the General Church, which will have to be approved by the General Convention, totals $5,805,659.86. The Diocese of Virginia's share is $84,943.00.

Diocesan Missionary Society:

(a) Clergy Salary Supplements..... $ 40,621.00

At present 32 parishes and missions receive aid in paying the salaries of their rectors in the amount of $46,871.46 for the year. D. M. S. appropriations are reduced annually as parishes and missions increase their share of the salaries.

(b) Vacant Parishes and Missions..... 23,600.00

There are 12 vacant parishes and missions that the D. M. S. expects to help when they get rectors. Provision is made here for opening one new mission in the Piedmont Convocation. If all of them are filled, the cost to D. M. S. is estimated at $27,770.00.

(c) Lay Workers..... 1,100.00

At present this item provides for part of salaries of two seminary students in mission projects.

(d) Schools and Scholarships:

Blue Ridge School..... 10,000.00

This school was begun for mountain children. It is now for boys and girls who need a boarding school but cannot afford the cost of other schools. About 125 pupils are enrolled.

St. Paul's Polytechnic Institute..... 1,000.00

St. Paul's at Lawrenceville is a church college for Negro boys and girls. There are 415 students this session.

John Moncure Scholarships..... 1,500.00

When the John Moncure School for Negro students was closed, it was decided to use part of the appropriation formerly made to the school for scholarships for Negro boys and girls.

(c) Report of the Board of Christian Education

Your Board is most happy to say that the Rev. James Lincoln, Executive Secretary for Christian Education in the Diocese, has done outstanding work during the last year, thus vindicating the action of Council in creating the job. Under his leadership we look forward to even better things in the future, and it is to some of these things that this report will now call your attention:

First: The Department of Christian Education is always increasing its film strips, library, curriculum aids, and its experience. We ask the parishes to make as full use of these facilities as possible and to feel free to call on the Rev. Mr. Lincoln for help in planning educational work. We should like to call specific attention to the possibility of teacher training institutes held in parishes working together under his supervision and with excellent material now available.

Second: We believe that the whole conference program is even more helpful than in the past, particularly those conferences for Sunday School Superintendents and Youth Leaders. May we also point to the Family Conference at Shrine Mont this year as the beginning of an expanded kind of adult education conference.

Third: We plan to have leadership training teams set up in the near future who will be available for parish missions in Christian Education, bringing the Church's program into the parish level. This may be the most important part of our planning for years to come and the real beginning of revitalized Christian Education in our Diocese on a parochial level.

Fourth: We intend to investigate fully the possibility of having in our Diocese a conference center similar to Parishfield, Michigan, which is primarily dedicated to helping lay men and women find their full Christian ministry and vocation. The experience of the Quakers, with their work camps, the Iona Community in Scotland, and countless other centers of meaningful and sustaining faith points to a possibility that we cannot overlook.

These, then, are some of the future items which we have on our minds. If you have any other suggestions or if you have any criticisms, suggestions, and questions, please let us know. We want to know how we can serve you better.

RICHARD R. BAKER, III, Chairman.

(d) Report of the Board of Christian Social Relations—1951-52

By way of general comment, the Board repeats its statement of last year: that the Board of Christian Social Relations "should be the focal point of this Diocese in its concern for the human community from parish to planet." Just how well the Board has been fulfilling its possibilities may be best judged by the following minus and plus report:

A. What the Board was NOT able to do (in part):

- (1) Did NOT publicize the report of Bishop Dun's committee, appointed under the old Federal Council of Churches, on the subject, "The Christian Conscience and Weapons of Mass Destruction"—a treatise which should have been thoughtfully studied by all;
- (2) Initiated NO action or study in the field of the abuse of narcotics;
- (3) Made NO careful, adequate attempt to inform the people of the Diocese as to major issues at the 1952 General Assembly;
- (4) Sent NO representative to the National Conference of Social Work, held this year in Chicago—such being imperative for the professional training of any church worker in the field;
- (5) Did NOT lay plans, following the suggestion of many authorities and leaders in the Church for conferences on The Church and the Medical Profession;

- (6) Made INSufficient effort to get appropriate churches in urban areas represented at Urban Church Training Institute;
- (7) Failed to order and distribute available information on the Clergy and Civil Defense;
- (8) Took NO long-range action, in spite of the urgent, nation-wide need, in the field of care for the aged—the “great, single social problem for this and future generations, second only to war”;
- (9) Did NOT publicize and follow-up the splendid conference in Buffalo of laymen on the Christian and His Daily Work;
- (10) Did NOTHING to keep the appropriate persons up on the Episcopal Hospital Assembly held in Cleveland with its study and findings on the enlarging place of religion in modern hospitals;
- (11) Attendance at various regional Child Welfare Conferences NOT sought or notice given to Woman's Auxiliaries as recommended by National Church;
- (12) Gave NO help in the seriously neglected area of the Migrant Workers;
- (13) Took NO action in the field of the Church and social service workers, where secular ideas, motives and ideals have largely taken over, through the Church's neglect of these professionals;
- (14) Results of splendid conference on Social Study and Community Action in April at Seabury House, NOT publicized or acted upon;
- (15) Made NO survey, as suggested by National Board, of desirability of clergy being included in benefits of Social Security Act;
- (16) First booklets in series “Parishioners Are People” from National Headquarters, with studies recommended, NOT used, or advertised to the Diocese;
- (17) Did NOT relay to Diocese the National Council's action opposing the ambassadorship to the Vatican;
- (18) Did NOTHING about the 650 Displaced Persons units which are the quota of the Episcopal Church for 1952;
- (19) Encouraged NO study of the Aid to Overseas Theological Student program being undertaken by the National Board;
- (20) Made NO effort to publicize the needs of hurricane-damaged Episcopal churches in Jamaica and Kansas;
- (21) Did NOTHING to inform the people of this Diocese on the $489,363.39 annual program of the National Department of Christian Social Relations, with all the domestic and overseas work being done, in part, by the offerings from this Diocese to the National Church.

This negative list is in NO sense intended to insult individuals, hurt feelings, disparage ability, express pessimism or helplessness. Its sole purpose is to itemize some of the work this Board might be doing, will be doing, when it becomes the fully-represented and well-organized group it should.

B. On the positive side, we list the following items which the Board WAS able to do:

- (1) First steps taken toward a diocesan conference on Alcoholism;
- (2) National Council's appeal to support the Surplus Wheat to India Bill given publicity;
- (3) In cooperation with the Woman's Auxiliaries of various Convocations, encouraged interest and effective action in the matter of improving the State care for the mentally ill in our Mental Hospitals;
- (4) Carefully investigated the legal, traditional and actual ties of the various social welfare institutions in the Diocese;
- (5) Permanent tie-up with Christian Social Relations work in Woman's Auxiliary established;
- (6) Studies in matters of race relations and legislation begun;
- (7) Clothing collection for Korean relief made through Woman's Auxiliary (see Dr. Montague's report following);
- (8) Survey and report made on history, present status and future possibilities of the work of this Board in the field of social welfare services; this very full report is the blueprint for the future in that phase of the work;
- (9) Cooperated with the nation-wide, tentative, professional survey of Church and Church-related social service and welfare institutions; played middle-man for the questionnaires sent out to representative parishes and information returned to New York;
- (10) Made complete plans, subject to proper authorities' approval, for securing in the near future the full-time services of an Executive Secretary to focus and extend the work of the Board in this Diocese.

We have high hopes that the Diocese will exploit the many challenging opportunities in this field by fully supporting the Board's plan for the future. The first steps involve no added expense in the Diocesan budget for 1953, but only a transference of the salary and expenses of the Richmond City Missionary to the control of this Board.

On the occasion of the retirement after thirty-five years' duty of Dr. R. Cary Montague, both in his connection with the Board of Christian Social Relations and as Richmond City Missionary, we of the Board urge upon the people of this Diocese that the warmest expressions of gratitude and appreciation be shown this pillar of the Church's social concern. Dr. Montague's office may be filled, but he will never be replaced. He has a permanent spot in the affectionate memory and admiration of the people of this Diocese and Commonwealth.

The report of the Richmond City Missionary follows.

GEORGE F. TITTMANN, Chairman.

Report of R. Cary Montague, Richmond City Missionary and Executive Secretary of the Board of Christian Social Relations

For the last thirty years, the report of your Richmond City Missionary has been combined with the Annual Report of the Board of Christian Social Relations, because I have served without compensation as Executive Secretary for that Board which for this service has furnished me a combined corresponding secretary and chauffeur.

Last fall, however, the Chairman of the Board of Social Relations decided that the fund heretofore provided for the maintenance of this combined office could be used to greater advantage to pay for the expenses of the Board's meetings and for their attendance at various regional and National Conferences. Consequently, this combined office was closed in September, and a fund of $20.00 per month allowed the City Missionary for transportation. Before this was done, however, the Bishop had asked our Board to conduct the drive to secure clothing for the Koreans. Therefore the Board authorized me, as Executive Secretary, to complete this work. Cooperation from all churches, our own and others, was wonderful, with the result that we secured more than 24,000 pounds of clothing. From our own Church people more than 22,000 pounds was given by seventy-two parishes. As Executive Secretary, I had been serving the entire Diocese in a variety of ways, as enumerated in last year's report, and briefly covering such services as:

Information concerning all kinds of State and Charitable Institutions.

Charity transportation throughout the State and over the C. & O. Railway to such points as Chicago and Louisville.

Adjusting hospital bills and giving information on individual or parochial problems.

Of course, the closing of our office has considerably limited these activities, but as City Missionary I still continue to render many of these services and have recently settled a hospital bill in Northumberland County, on the Potomac River, and am helping with an old lady in the Blue Ridge Mountains, and advised an Alexandria clergyman how to rehabilitate a blind parishioner.

Here in Richmond your City Missionary's monthly services include:

- The Bon Air Industrial School for Girls;
- The State Penitentiary;
- The Industrial Farm for Women;
- The Virginia Home for Incurables;
- Bookfield Maternity Home.
- Two colored reform schools in Hanover County;
- Weekly services include:
 - The Confederate Home for Ladies;
 - Pine Camp Tuberculosis Hospital;
 - The Episcopal Ladies' Home;
 - The Richmond City Home.

The Richmond City Missionary holds numerous Communion Services in hospitals and private nursing homes, ministering to a population of between twelve and fifteen hundred people.

(e) Report of the Diocesan Field Board

The Field Board held its second annual Spring Conference for Every Member Canvass Chairmen at Roslyn last June, with a much larger attendance and more churches represented. The third annual Conference was held on Sunday, May 25, 1952, with a still larger attendance, and with more co-chairmen and other interested lay people participating. It was possible at this time to present the new emphasis of the General Church for the next triennium, viz.: Christian Stewardship, and to key all promotion plans for next fall into the continuing plans of the Bishops' Building Fund (subject to ratification by this Council).

The Board cooperated with the National Council and with The Episcopal Churchmen of the Diocese of Virginia last fall, and is so doing now, in the Laymen's Training Program. This enabled it to coordinate with the Bishops' Building Fund Committee in placing lay speakers for many kinds of meetings throughout the Diocese. The Board fitted its promotion machinery into the B-B-F plan last fall and winter in an assisting and advisory capacity.

This Board continued to cooperate with The Episcopal Churchmen of the Diocese in their year-round activities and is happy to report that this organization now has the most complete and up-to-date list of key men and alternates in the history of this movement. The Board is thus enabled to disseminate promptly, especially through the monthly information sheet, "Letting the Laymen Know," all vital and essential information in the promotion of the work of the Diocese. It aided again in promoting the Men's Advent Corporate Communion and its affiliated Men's Corporate Gift which helps Bishop Goodwin substantially with his fund for theological education, as well as the Blue Ridge School.

Also promoted were the Good Friday Offering for work in the Holy Land and the Theological Education Sunday Offering, with attendant information on the needs of theological education.

The Field Board office is responsible for all publicity and public relations, including the answering of innumerable questions from the press, from parishes and individuals, from sources outside the Church and from church and secular publications. It is entirely responsible for The Virginia Churchman, official organ of the Diocese, not only in editing and publishing, but also in securing advertising. This magazine is now cooperating in the publishing of "Our Mountain Work," formerly issued separately by The Board of Mountain Work. For many years it has published the Woman's Auxiliary material in a separate department, and more recently has been covering departments such as Youth, Church Music and information for the Church Schools as often as possible. The Board also cooperates with Forth, the national Church's official magazine, in securing subscriptions in club with the Diocesan magazine, or separately.

This Board handles all promotional materials for the Every Member Canvass each year, securing these from the National Council and distributing them to the parishes free or at cost. Last fall we also purchased the missionary motion picture, "Window on the Sky," renting it to local churches and church groups. The film has now been transferred to the Board of Christian Education with the understanding that all future visual aids will be routed through that department.

Another activity of this office is the securing of missionary and other speakers from outside the Diocese and arranging engagements for them within the Diocese. This is done often in cooperation with the Woman's Auxiliary.

A study for the year 1951, made in connection with a request from another diocese, revealed the fact that 80% of the congregations in the Diocese of Virginia accepted their quota in full or more than in full; 58% paid their full quota; 17% overpaid their full quota; 12% paid their full acceptance (lower than quota); 5% overpaid their acceptance, though lower than quota; and only 8% did not pay in full.

(f) Board of Evangelism

Your Diocesan Board of Evangelism has this year past continued its programs begun last year of personal evangelism for the clergy. Again it was possible during the fall to send several of its members, including other clergymen of the Diocese, to the Fall Clergy Conference at Calvary House, New York City. Attempts were again made to have a training conference for preaching missions within the Diocese but without success, due to the inability of obtaining a suitable leader. Plans are under way for a clergy retreat this fall. We feel that such training of our Diocesan clergy will make a real spiritual impact upon our Diocese as a whole, and as it is a long-range program, it will take time for the effects and benefits to be seen at large.

The Board has not been called upon officially during the year for any preaching missions or other services, but various of its members have been called on to aid in the spiritual life of some of our churches. We still want to know about all evangelistic efforts made by the churches in order that we might know what is being attempted along these lines within the Diocese. Members of the Board are available for preaching missions should any congregation or parish within the Diocese desire our services.

We hope that the Bryan Green Mission which will be held at Richmond and Charlottesville this coming fall will be wholeheartedly supported by the entire Diocese. The Board is working with both the Richmond and Charlottesville committees toward this end.

FRANCIS W. HAYES, JR., Chairman.

(g) Report of the Board of College Work

The conviction that the college community is the crucial area for the work of our Church today is rapidly growing. There is no mission field greater, either in size or importance, than our colleges and universities. What is believed, or disbelieved, by those who gather here is going to be largely determinative of the future. The Board of College Work firmly believes that the need for the Christian faith to be ably stated, demonstrated and defended in our college and university centers today is not "just one more thing." It is a basic and imperative need which we must not, and dare not, neglect.

The Board of College Work is sponsoring work (though financial aid is not provided in all cases) among the students and faculties at the following colleges and universities in the Diocese:

- Madison College.
- Mary Washington College.
- Medical College of Virginia.
- Randolph-Macon College.
- Richmond Professional Institute.
- University of Richmond.
- University of Virginia.
- Virginia Union University.

The extent of the work being undertaken in the above schools varies from part-time work to the extensive program being carried on at the University of Virginia, where a full-time chaplain is in charge of the work.

An event of particular importance in college work in our Diocese was the Institute in Theology for college faculty members and others which was held at Roslyn the week-end of March 8-9, 1952. The subject of the Institute was "The Significance of the Christian World View for Today." The speaker was the Rev. Dr. Albert T. Mollegen, Professor of Christian Ethics at the Virginia Theological Seminary. This meeting was entirely successful and the Board expects to expand its work in this direction in the future. Through its new Projects Committee it is also constantly seeking to promote effective new work in other areas.

The "asking" budget for college work for 1953 is $9,800.00. This does not include $800.00 which will be contributed to the work at the University of Virginia by the Church Society for College Work and the Division of College Work of the National Council.

The Board of College Work is currently made up of the following members: Mrs. Henry M. Taylor, Mr. Benton Boogher, Mr. Bernard P. Chamberlain (Secretary), Mr. Walter N. Chinn, Jr., the Rev. Herbert A. Donovan, the Rev. Theodore H. Evans, D. D., the Rev. Joseph E. Ewing, the Rev. Thomas G. Faulkner, Jr., the Rev. Aston Hamilton, D. D., the Rev. Leon Laylor, the Rev. William B. Lee, the Rev. Ward McCabe, Dr. Edward G. Peple, Captain Leslie E. Richardson, U. S. N. (retired) (Chairman).

LESLIE E. RICHARDSON, Chairman.

(h) Report of the Board of Mountain Work

The work of the Archdeaconry of the Blue Ridge has continued successfully in twenty-four mission points. Significant changes are noted herewith.

Since the retirement of Bishop Mason, the entire administrative plan has undergone change, with headquarters moving from Charlottesville to Richmond. This has resulted in serious lack of pastoral care and direct personal supervision of the missions, a loss that can only be overcome by again finding an administrator who has the time to visit regularly in the field.

Otherwise the changes have proved generally efficient and successful. Bookkeeping and finances are now handled through the office of the Diocesan Treasurer. The new smaller Board of Mountain Work, instituted by canonical change in 1950, has functioned well. The Board's publication, Our Mountain Work, will in the future be published in Richmond as a portion of The Virginia Churchman.

The Charlottesville office has been continued as a necessary local headquarters. Tribute should here be paid to Miss Elizabeth Winegar, who continues as resident Secretary. Miss Winegar has served the Archdeaconry in a generous and sacrificial way since 1909. Respect and appreciation for her great contribution cannot adequately be expressed here. We are fortunate and thankful that with her duties lessened she has been willing to continue serving beyond the time of her well-earned retirement.

Mention must also be made of Bishop Mason's continued activity. He has been generous with his services and a tower of strength in his knowledge and wise counsel. At the Chairman's request he has taken full charge of new building. The new St. Elizabeth's Church and parish hall at Cabbage Hollow, and the almost completed school building on Wyatt's Mountain, are fruits of his work in retirement. They are significant points of progress in the Archdeaconry.

Salaries of lay workers are still distressingly low. These underpaid missionaries are the true sacrificial heroes of the mountain work. A personal budget study was made in 1951 which revealed real hardship in a number of cases. Small salary increases were granted in 1952, but more should and would be granted if the income were available.

Income from individuals, voluntary contributions, particularly that from outside the Diocese, has been declining for the last several years. At the same time there has been a steadily increasing self-support. The Archdeaconry balances its budget, but this is only possible through low salaries and failure to purchase new automobiles, which are badly needed.

ROBERT F. GIBSON, JR., Chairman.

IV. CHURCH SCHOOLS

(a) Report of the Church Schools in the Diocese of Virginia

I am sorry that all your headmasters and headmistresses could not be present for this Council. The schools are in examination week or in the week before examinations and it has not been possible for some of them to be here. The school system has been fortunate in the two new principals who have undertaken their responsibilities since the last Council. They are Miss Roberta McBride, of St. Agnes' School in Alexandria, and Dr. Robert W. Bugg, of St. Christopher's in Richmond. Miss McBride came to St. Agnes' from the Northampton School in Massachusetts. She had not only been an outstanding member of the faculty of that school but she had been a leader in religious education in St. John's Church, Northampton, on the side. She has lived up to the glowing recommendation given her by her rector. She has shown faith and wisdom in this, her first year. Dr. Bugg is known to many members of this Council; he has been an important member of St. Christopher's faculty since 1920. He was senior master for many years and has always shown outstanding skill as a Christian teacher and as a counsellor of young people. He has served as Sunday School teacher, vestryman and treasurer in his parish. Both of these schools are moving forward under their new leadership.

Most of you know the other five principals: Miss Susanna P. Turner, of St. Catherine's; Mrs. Thomas J. Randolph, of St. Anne's; Miss Viola Woolfolk, of St. Margaret's; the Rev. Edward Tate, of St. Stephen's; and Mr. Branch Spalding, of Christchurch. Each of these men and women who are laboring faithfully in your behalf could give you heartening reports of the work of their individual schools during this session.

OBJECTIVES OF THE SCHOOLS

Your schools are working for four main objectives in Christian Education:

First, they seek to deal with all areas of truth and all training in human relations within the framework of the Christian faith.

Second, they are working to develop more effective programs for imparting a foundation for understanding theology, the queen of the sciences, through courses in religious studies.

Third, they are providing experiences of worship in connection with daily work.

Fourth, they strive to maintain communities within which discipline, life and atmosphere is truly moulded by our faith.

We are humble about our shortcomings and quite aware that the Church is more often the fellowship of conscious sinners than it is the communion of perfect saints. When you consider the result of the work of the schools, please remember that schools are exposed to far more searching judgment than parishes. Pupils and teachers are often more worldly than we would like them to be, but then so sometimes are vestries and parishioners—and even clergy.

FACULTY CONFERENCES

There are several activities which can be cited to indicate that the schools are growing in achievement of Christian education. Faculties are crucial in such achievement. Last fall twenty-five faculty members took part in one of the College of Preachers Conferences under the Department of Christian Education. Their participation and understanding was reported by the leaders to be easily on a par with the participation and understanding of clerical groups. More important, the conference has had continuing general influence and several specific results (notably in courses in the Christian faith for larger groups of faculty and staff in some of the schools). Several teachers have attended the conferences which have been held for college faculty under the auspices of the Church Society for College Work. Others are planning to attend various church conferences this summer. Some will take courses in theology at summer schools. The schools are sponsoring a conference at Roslyn on the teaching of Religious Studies. A conference for faculty in various fields will be held at Roslyn in the fall. Parents and youngsters have been drawn into various conferences.

ACADEMIC WORK AND ENROLLMENT

Academically the schools continue to maintain high standards of achievement. Evidence can be obtained from college deans in many parts of the country. Enrollments are generally strong. The number of applications for places in the elementary schools is embarrassing. There are some vacancies in the high schools, but the enrollments increased more than 100 students over last year, and larger enrollments are expected next year. There are 1,838 students enrolled this session.

BUILDING PROGRAMS AND NEEDS

Christchurch has been considerably strengthened by the gifts of the Rev. John G. Scott and his sister, Mrs. Emma Scott Taylor. These benefactors have made possible the construction of a badly needed classroom building and a swimming pool at a total cost of $52,563.00. Both of these were built by a team of students and professors from St. Paul's Polytechnic Institute.

St. Stephen's School at Alexandria completed last fall an addition to its classroom building which cost a little more than $25,000 and was paid for from borrowed funds supplemented by contributions from the Parent-Teachers Association. As a result of having these facilities and of the excellent work of its staff, St. Stephen's enrollment increased from 160 pupils to 213 pupils in one year.

A long-needed building is now under construction at St. Catherine's School in Richmond. It is being financed from insurance recovery on fire loss, from accumulated depreciation funds which had been held for the purpose, and from additional borrowing which, in the judgment of the Board, is justified by the stable financial condition of St. Catherine's. The school expects to meet annual interest and curtail on the additional debt from its operating income. The building will replace facilities lost by fire as well as a building which has become obsolete.

Although bricks and mortar are not the most important elements of a good school, it is true that schools are under severe handicap if equipment is inadequate, especially by contrast with community centers, places of amusement and modern public schools. Most of the schools lack adequate chapel facilities. There are serious limitations on equipment for other school activities. St. Stephen's and St. Agnes' Schools, in common with other church enterprises in the Alexandria and Arlington areas, have grown phenomenally. Their building needs, particularly for gymnasium and assembly space, are pressing. St. Margaret's School at Tappahannock has done miraculous work with the equipment it has. It needs a new building for dormitory and class room space. St. Christopher's School some time ago outgrew its elementary school building and has early grades scattered in rooms which were thought to be temporary eight years ago. Christchurch School is growing stronger each year. It needs a number of small improvements to be able to realize its potentialities. Expensive building repairs are required immediately at St. Anne's.

FINANCIAL OPERATIONS

Financially, the schools are having a happier year than last year. Rates were increased for the 1951-52 session to meet rising costs. It looks as if the schools will just about break even after meeting debt obligations (interest and curtail on the mortgage) and depreciation.

You need not be told that any education today is expensive, although our country spends much less on education than it does on many less noble products and enterprises. Your schools must not only provide better than the average academic education, they must provide Christian education which goes beyond the best academic education. This requires ability and training. Christian education is no less expensive in elementary and secondary schools than it is in parish and diocese and in national church.

In thinking of the financial operation of your schools, it is well to remember that very few educational institutions operate on a pay-as-you-go basis. I need not remind you of the tremendous financial support which good public schools and colleges require and are getting from governmental sources. I hope that you will from time to time discover for yourselves information about the large amounts which our brethren in other denominations are contributing to their educational institutions. I hope that you will always want it to be true that the Church has the largest stake and the controlling voice in your schools.

Very few people can give the time required to understand the intricacies of the financial operation of a corporation which operates seven units with a total annual budget of over a million dollars. Almost no one seems able to give the time needed for understanding such operations when they involve not only fees, but contributions and bonds. I am not providing with this report a financial summary, because people do not ordinarily have the time to study such a summary, but if any individual or group is interested enough to sit down and study the picture, I have the figures now, or will be prepared at any time to come and present and analyze them.

CHURCH SCHOOLS AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Recent developments have made it clearer than ever that through these schools the Church can give strength to the whole educational enterprise of this country. It is not the policy of our system of schools to seek financial aid from the local or Federal Government. It is doubtful whether the schools will ever be able to expand to the point of being able to accommodate even the majority of children of church families. Far from being a drag on public education or a divisive influence, your schools can be and are a source of strength to public education. By bearing witness to education which is sound because it is consciously centered on God's truth, by pressing towards the demonstration of effective training in the Christian faith, by providing communities bound together in the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, the Church provides a haven for the whole educational community. Through cooperation, through example, through constructive competition, you and your schools are doing much to strengthen elementary and secondary education in general. Church schools safeguard democratic education by guaranteeing variety and by providing protection from totalitarian education. They provide the kind of variety which is most essential because it is built on the best and surest foundation.

DIOCESAN SUPPORT

There is always a danger that the Church will not support its schools and will let them, or force them, to be possessed by other spirits than the Spirit of God. Do not be deceived, if you do not give your moral and physical support to these schools, they will become hypocrisies of a dangerous kind. Anyone familiar with the history of church related colleges in this state and in this country knows the truth of this warning.

A recent speaker at a national independent school educational conference remarked that the chief financial supporters of independent schools are the members of the faculties of those schools. Certainly it is true that in your church schools the devoted teachers and staff members are serving in a way which is sacrificial to a degree not exceeded by any other profession in our community.

Sometimes it is said that parents should support the Church Schools. They have and do. Prior to 1940 the Diocese contributed a total of approximately $620,000 over a period of twenty years. Last year for the first time since 1940, the Diocesan Council adopted a budget including an appropriation ($7,000) for the Church Schools. Otherwise the schools have been in effect self-supporting, that is, supported by patrons. Alumni and friends have contributed approximately $300,000. Operating expenses over the last twenty-five years have totaled $11,109,902.10. Capital expenditures have been in addition to this total, and, at the present time, the land, buildings and equipment of the seven schools is valued at over $4,800,000. Curtail and interest on the debt (which has been reduced from $1,200,000 in 1948 to $860,000 in 1952) are being paid by the schools out of operating income. In other words, the Diocese has made an investment of approximately $630,000. The parents have paid $11,100,000, plus the cost, over the Diocesan investment, contributions by others and the unpaid debt, of the plants now valued at $4,800,000.

These are poor measurements of the results of the schools' work with the talents entrusted to them. Would that we could measure the returns in the realm of the spirit.

We in the schools are aware of our deficiencies. I hope we will always be found open to new ideas and, especially, to ideas from the clergy and lay people of the Diocese.

As in the case with schools in the Foreign Mission fields, families are being brought into the church and being strengthened in the Church through the work of your schools. We believe that in these schools today there are both children who will be leaders in the Church and children who will be faithful members of the Church. Most of you know of individual children for whom the schools have met a great need and for some of whom the schools have been a channel of salvation. May God grant that we may always be equal to the opportunity of working with these young people through our schools.

(b) Report of the Blue Ridge School

There is a certain element of routine in making a report year after year. One finds himself saying the same things over and over again. While many of the statements that follow would apply to almost any year at Blue Ridge, in some respects the past year has been different.

A prolonged drought, lasting between two and three months, created a situation that was, to put it mildly, quite a strain. The next serious difficulty came with a widespread epidemic of mumps, with a large number of the staff as well as students as victims. The flu epidemic, which attacked the whole country, did not pass us by, and there were very few of us left on our feet.

On the other side of the ledger, this has been a glorious year; albeit a time of testing of our faith. The question of a pre-school department came up again since we were getting inquiries from time to time asking us to take children, some of whom were old enough to go to school and some were not. This matter came before the Executive Committee and it was turned down on the basis that we didn't have any suitable place to house this department without expending a good deal of money, which we did not have. Bishop Mason then spoke of the possibility of using St. Anne's Preventorium nine miles away as a pre-school department. A second meeting of the Executive Committee was called by Bishop Gibson, and they agreed unanimously to such a plan, and steps were taken toward opening in September, 1951. This has proved a real blessing in many ways. We have been able to carry on much of the work that Miss Park did, of necessity confining our cases to non-contagious diseases. We opened with nine children and now have built up this number to twenty-six. There is a deep joy in being able to take in whole families, boys and girls, of school age and pre-school age, both well and sick. In one family of six we have utilized every service offered by the School.

At our Board meeting a year ago this spring it was announced that the New York Auxiliary to the School was prepared to go ahead with the principal's residence, and thereby release the large stone building by the Church as the older girls' dormitory. A ranch-type cottage of native stone has been built, and the Kellys moved in in the late fall. The older girls moved into their new home after the Christmas holidays, and the dream of the New York Auxiliary is becoming a reality, as these young ladies have shown their appreciation for beautiful things.

Financially, this has been a year of experimentation. To operate an institution caring for children from three years old all the way through high school, both boys and girls, is manifestly not the most economical institution to operate. To have two separate dining rooms increases the cost of living. Anticipating the possibility of financial difficulties, we increased the top figure for board and tuition to $70.00 per month per child, asking the parents or guardians wherever possible to meet this figure; and being ready at all times to scale it down wherever this seemed right. We are receiving this amount for nine children. However, along with this increase, there was also an increase of requests for children able to pay less than we were receiving last year. Even though we have the promise of a small amount, in several instances this didn't materialize, and we found ourselves with about ten children on our hands for whom we were receiving nothing. This with the increased cost of living and an increase in a few salaries, made the going rather difficult, and we got behind financially. However, we did not see the whole picture at the time. Unexpected gifts came in from several sources and we have been able to keep going. We were reminded several times of Miss Park's statement, "Where is your faith?" With the opening of St. Anne's Preventorium, and the wonderful publicity given by Bishop Gibson, the Woman's Auxiliary, which has stood solidly behind us all along, increased its giving and designated part of it specifically for St. Anne's. This wonderful cooperation has been a constant source of encouragement. The increase in the Diocesan appropriation of $3,000 a year has been of inestimable benefit. Other gifts have come to us from time to time since Christmas, until we have reached the present time with what I hope is a fair state of solvency.

This year we have had eight confirmations and seven baptisms. While of necessity we lose many of our communicants by removal, so that our own communicant list never increases appreciably; nevertheless, we are always glad to transfer our children to other parishes by request. We can in this way be a feeder to other churches and follow up what is started here.

At the present time we have 85 boarders on the main campus and 26 at St. Anne's Preventorium, making a total of 111 boarders which, with 19 day students, makes a total of 130. There are 82 in the grade school and 48 in high school.

Most of our children come from Virginia, as follows: Southwestern Virginia, 3; Southern Virginia, 14; Virginia, 77; making a total from the three Dioceses of 94. From other states and the District of Columbia come 36.

We now have received the long-awaited materials for the new water system, and we will start on this project again within the month. The Virginia D. A. R. Boys' Building is well under way. The remodeling of the dining room has been completed and paint for the buildings on the main campus has been purchased.

There are several things that face us in the immediate future. The school building has had little done to it in the past few years. As the children spend more of their waking hours here than in any other building, something should be done to make it more attractive and to preserve it. The plumbing is in poor condition and really inadequate. The halls and classrooms are in need of general repair. St. Anne's Preventorium is showing severe signs of termites this spring, and a thorough extermination must be done in order to keep this building in good repair. A telephone or some form of communication is a most urgent need at St. Anne's.

As time goes on the need for a gymnasium becomes more acute. We have dared to hope that some of the money pledged through the Bishops' Building Fund will find its usefulness in such a building, as well as staff apartments on the campus. These are matters facing us in the future.

Since the Board lifted the ban on taking older boys, the age level of our boys has risen remarkably. We have been fortunate in getting exceptionally fine older boys, including several day students. There are three girls in our graduating class and one boy. This is our first boy to graduate since 1946. One of the senior girls has spent her entire school life of twelve years at Blue Ridge.

Last year's Summer Camp was so popular with ninety-five campers enrolled that we decided to divide it this year and place the smaller children at St. Anne's Preventorium under Mr. and Mrs. Hugh R. Johnson, with the older camp again under Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Kelly.

There has generally been an increased interest in the School during the past year, especially through the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese, the New York Auxiliary, the D. A. R., and locally by the people of Charlottesville and the University, and the hospital groups, especially in the pre-school and convalescent department. In an essay contest sponsored by The Living Church on teen-age problems, one of our juniors won first prize of a gold medal and $100.

With all the trials we have had this has still been a wonderful year.

D. C. LOVING, Headmaster.

(c) Report of Stuart Hall

The year 1951-52 has been a very satisfactory, happy one for Stuart Hall. We have twenty-four more resident students than in the previous year and are anticipating an even larger enrollment for 1952-53. The new members of the faculty have been able, cooperative young women, and I feel that the academic work of the school has been of the highest order. Twenty-nine of our thirty-four seniors have made applications for entrance to outstanding colleges, nineteen having taken College Board examinations on March 14th.

Our school life has progressed actively and happily. Our athletic and sports program, under the direction of two excellent physical education directors, has maintained the greatest enthusiasm and interest throughout the entire year, starting with hockey in the fall and at present going into the tennis soft ball season. Swimming in our lovely tiled pool is enjoyed during the entire year, the outstanding feature being the synchronized swimming pageant staged by the Stuart Hall Swimming Club on February 18th.

I have been especially gratified with the work of the Religious Education Department, including the actual class room work, with classes three times each week in the freshman, sophomore and junior years, and academic credit in our general course; the work of our Service League which, under the direction of our Religious Education teacher and an able senior, has developed in its members a fine spirit of helpfulness, both in the school and in many outside projects; and especially our daily vesper services, frequently conducted by the girls themselves and, without exception, showing a reverent, worshipful spirit.

We are making a very definite effort towards the organization of our alumnae in various key areas, looking towards the possibility of a full-time Alumnae Secretary who, while living at the school, would be free to visit the groups, help with their organization, and suggest objectives. Such a person would also serve in a public relations capacity, constantly being on the alert for enrollment and for helpful contacts with those whose interest and friendship would be advantageous to the school. Practically all schools and colleges have such a person.

Stuart Hall, in the present economic situation, felt so keenly by all educational institutions, sadly needs endowment, appropriations and established scholarships. I have been much cheered by a number of gifts to the Robert Carter Jett Memorial Scholarship Fund, and am glad to feel that this memorial is now really a fund and not simply the recognition of Bishop Jett's close association with the school by the allocation of his name to a certain amount taken from the school budget for scholarships. I am earnestly hoping that alumnae and friends in this Diocese who know of Bishop Jett's love for Stuart Hall may make substantial contributions.

In closing, may I ask the cooperation and interest of each minister in the Diocese of Virginia in the welfare and continued development of your school? We shall be delighted to have visits from you at any time.

ANNIE POWELL HODGES, Headmistress.

(d) Report of Episcopal High School

The Episcopal High School considers it a privilege to report to the Diocese of Virginia on the School's 112th year of operation. Although under the control of an independent board of trustees, and not deriving direct financial support from the Diocese, this institution greatly cherishes its traditional status as an Episcopal Church School.

The School's enrollment, consisting normally of about 220 boarders and 20 day students, is full this year as it has been for over fifty years. Enrollment is also full for the session beginning in September, 1952, although places will undoubtedly be available for a few additional students to be included during the course of the summer months.

The present tuition is $1,400 for a boarding student and $700 for a day student. Sons of the Episcopal clergy are admitted at one-half of the regular rate, and there is a scholarship in the form of a $300 discount which may be awarded annually by the Bishop of Virginia.

A fine new combination chapel and auditorium, seating 500 persons, has been placed in operation during this session, this building having been made possible through the generous support given by the alumni and friends of the School. In addition, a new headmaster's residence has been completed and the former residence converted to reception and administrative purposes.

On June 7th an unusually large senior class of sixty-six students will graduate, most of whom are planning to enter college next fall. This group has made an unusually fine record at the School, and this superior performance has been reflected in its standing on the college entrance board examinations. A wide selection of colleges has been made, with 22 of them going to 9 Northern colleges, 34 going to 11 Southern colleges, 2 to 2 Western colleges, 3 to West Point, and 1 to the Naval Academy. Four of these potential graduates are returning here next year, all being rather young for college and anxious to continue work in some of our advanced courses.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD P. THOMSEN, Headmaster.

(e) Report on Virginia Theological Seminary

At the present there are enrolled in the Seminary 184 men from forty-seven dioceses. Of these, fifty-one are members of the junior class. Several men were admitted from other seminaries into the upper classes. There are six special students, including a member of the Church of South India and two graduate students, both priests of the Japanese Church. The temper of the student life throughout the year has been good and the quality of the work very satisfactory.

Fortunately the faculty has been at full strength during the year. Thirteen have been in residence; four have come from the outside to do part-time work.

I am very glad to state that Dr. Lowell Beveridge, of Columbia University and Union Theological Seminary in New York, has accepted the Board's invitation to become Associate Professor in the Seminary and that he will be in residence next September. Dr. Beveridge will organize and be in charge of the department of speech, public speaking and music, which has long been a need in the Seminary. Other changes impend. Dr. Brown-Serman, who has been Professor of New Testament since 1932 and for two years Dean, has resigned both posts and will leave the Seminary at the end of June.

Dr. E. Felix Kloman, presently rector of St. Alban's Church, Washington, D. C., has been elected as Dean and will assume office on July 1st. We wish for him a long, happy and fruitful administration.

Owing to the decrease of the numbers of our married students, whom the Seminary does not have to house, and the consequent increase of the single men, we have had to take steps for the provision of another dormitory. This is now being built. Part of the funds can be supplied from money in hand, part must yet be secured from gifts and contributions. This dormitory will be ready for occupancy about the middle of the next academic year.

STANLEY BROWN-SERMAN, Dean.

V. REPORT OF BISHOPS' BUILDING FUND

This final report and analysis, prepared for the Bishops' Building Fund Committee and the United Canvass Executive Committee, comprises a review of the objectives and an analysis of the results. The sum total of pledges and cash gifts in the campaign amounted to $402,977 from 6,832 contributors.

I. REVIEW OF THE OBJECTIVES

The basic overall objectives of the United Every Member Canvass were to raise the level of giving throughout the Diocese through (1) increased pledging to individual church annual budgets, and (2) better than token pledges to the Bishops' Building Fund. As expanded in the Plan and Procedures Manual, the chief objectives were:

First—To aid each individual church in securing a substantial increase in the number of pledges to its annual budget, thereby enabling the local church to project more accurately its individual program.

Second—To obtain, at the same time, pledges payable over a two-year period for the Diocese of Virginia Bishops' Building Fund, which will be used to meet construction costs and other building needs of Church Schools and individual churches by a combination of grants and revolving fund loans."

The organizational objective was: "Every church and every member of every church participating in the United Every Member Canvass."

As financial goals, it was hoped that the churches would accept the two objectives of the United Every Member Canvass set forth in the Plan and Procedures Manual:

"(1) $1,300,000 in pledges for local church budgets, payable in one year.

"(2) $1,300,000 in pledges for the Bishops' Building Fund, payable in two years and during three income tax years."

II. ANALYSIS OF THE RESULTS

Number of Churches and Number of Communicants Participating

The B-B-F final report to churches listed a total of 179 churches, missions or parish units in the Diocese. Of these, 25 made no report to B-B-F headquarters. Of the 25, 19 are inactive or had no canvass. The remaining 6 conducted Every Member Canvasses but have had no canvass as yet for B-B-F. One of the 19 has a combined canvass in progress at this time.

The number of communicants in the 179 churches is approximately 28,264.

A total of 154 churches submitted a report of some kind, even though a canvass may not have been conducted. Final reports were submitted by 149 churches. Of the 154, 147 churches (several of which are small missions) reported pledges to the B-B-F. Of the 149 final reports, 17 were not complete and were from small churches or missions. The remaining 132 final reports account for approximately 99% of the total amounts and pledges reported.

The following table gives a comparative breakdown of the participation in the United and Combined Every Member Canvass last fall, or projected:

Churches Which Have Not Yet Conducted B-B-F Canvasses

Seven churches with a total of 3,848 communicants have not yet conducted B-B-F canvasses but are planning to do so. If these seven churches do no better than the average set last fall by the other churches in the Diocese, they will produce about 1,075 pledges for a total of not less than $75,000.00.

Analysis of Church Cooperation and Comparative Results Thereof

Approximately 90% of the active churches in the Diocese have cooperated, or will cooperate, with the basic plans for the United and Combined Every Member Canvass. In general, cooperation was stronger in the smaller churches and the smaller cities. Lack of cooperation was most evident in certain of the very large city churches and in some of the churches in the Valley Convocation.

Many of the churches were very reluctant to adopt all the methods and techniques recommended in the Plan and Procedures Manual. Some refused to use any of the recommended methods. On the other hand, several churches embraced the recommendations wholeheartedly and, as a result, conducted outstandingly successful canvasses, not only for their own budgets but for the B-B-F as well. Several supported churches found, to their surprise, that a real every member canvass could make them self-supporting. Many churches attained their budget goals for the first time in years. Twice as many churches attained their budget goals for 1952 as did for 1951. Several churches reported that this was the first face-to-face canvass ever conducted, and plan to make it even more effective next fall.

Analysis of Pledging to the Bishops' Building Fund

It is not possible to make a complete and accurate analysis of the pledging to the B-B-F, because all of the pledge cards are in the possession of the individual churches. All churches have been asked to submit a list of contributors, with amounts pledged. To date, ninety such lists have been received and will be analyzed later in this report.

While 6,843 pledges to B-B-F have been reported, compared with 14,979 pledges to local church budgets, it should be noted that many of the B-B-F pledges are family pledges, whereas most of the pledges to the local church budgets are individual pledges.

There is no way to determine exactly how many of these 6,843 pledges are pledges payable for only fifty-two weeks, instead of 100 weeks. But it is known that many of the B-B-F pledges are for one year only. If each such pledge were to be renewed for an additional year, the total pledges to B-B-F would probably be considerably greater than the $402,977 reported at this time.

It is a known fact that many very able givers have made only token pledges to the B-B-F. It is also true that several of the most able givers in the Diocese have not yet pledged or contributed.

A review of the individual pledges reported shows an astonishingly large number of pledges or contributions of $10.00 or less, and very few for $500 or more. The top gift reported to date is only $5,000, and only five such top gifts have been reported to B-B-F headquarters at this time.

Actual results reported to date are as follows:

| Number of Pledges | Average Pledge | Total |
|-------------------|----------------|-----------|
| 6,832 | $58.95 | $402,977 |

Detailed lists of contributors to B-B-F by individual amounts have been received from ninety churches, which total as follows:

| Number of Pledges | Average Pledge | Total |
|-------------------|----------------|-----------|
| 4,425 | $56.46 | $249,826 |

Fifty pledges (1.13% of total number) of $500 or more, amount to a total of $56,234 (22.51% of total amount), and average $1,124.68 each.

The remaining 4,375 pledges, or 98.8% of the number reported, account for 77.49% of the total amount and average $44.25 each.

More than one-fourth of these 4,375 pledges or contributions, 1,185 to be exact, ranged in amounts from $1 to $10 for an average of only $7.25 and a total of $8,596. The range in this bracket is as follows: 40 @ $1.00; 68 @ $2.00; 18 @ $3.00; 9 @ $4.00; 418 @ $5.00; 12 @ $6.00; 5 @ $7.00; 6 @ $8.00; 5 @ $9.00; and 604 @ $10.00.

Many of the campaign pledges are probably sacrificial pledges. But far more of them are token pledges, even though some may be for as much as $5,000, some as small as $1.00, and many as small as $10.00.

Expenditures to Date and Estimated Costs of Campaign Through Balance of 1952

At the outset of the campaign it was estimated that expenses, including professional guidance, clerical help, travel, office equipment and supplies, telephone, telegraph, postage, booklets, mailings, bulletins, reports, dinner meetings and incidentals would total $60,000. This amount was accordingly appropriated for the purpose. As of March 15th the total cost of the campaign was $48,758.46.

It is calculated that expenses during the balance of the calendar year for Special Gifts solicitation and reactivation of the combined Every Member Canvass in most churches, including salaries of the campaign director and office manager, travel, printing, supplies, telephone, postage and miscellaneous items, will equal approximately $11,200. Thus the entire cost, including an extension of nine months beyond the original campaign dates, will reach a total not exceeding the $60,000 appropriation.

Summary of Bishops' Building Fund Report

The United and Combined Every Member Canvass last year resulted in notable progress in Diocesan giving. Above and beyond the $402,977 reported as raised toward the goal of $1,300,000 for the Bishops' Building Fund, the campaign accomplished the following:

1. Amount pledged to local budgets increased from $843,932 for 1951 to $1,022,956 for 1952, or 21.2%.
2. Number of pledges to local budgets increased by 1793, or 13.6%.
3. Combined giving to local budgets and B-B-F, based upon one-half of two-year pledges to B-B-F, increased overall giving by 45.1%.

The first objective of the United and Combined Every Member Canvass, as set forth in the B-B-F instruction manual, was to aid the individual churches in increasing their own income. The campaign was clearly successful in this objective.

Reasons for the success of this phase of the B-B-F campaign were: (1) better canvass methods and plans; (2) many churches and parishes conducted a real Every Member Canvass on a person-to-person basis for the first time; and (3) results prove that the inclusion of the B-B-F helped rather than hurt the local church campaign.

It is noteworthy that the churches which followed most closely the recommended procedures obtained the best results in increasing local pledges as well as in proportionate giving to the B-B-F.

Failure to obtain still better results for the B-B-F can be attributed to:

1. Time between the annual session of Council in May of 1951 and opening of the campaign was inadequate to prepare communicants for the campaign.
2. Absence of official quotas or goals for individual churches provided no incentive for soliciting committees.
3. Inability to establish a Functioning Special Gifts Committee resulted in token gifts or no contributions at all from many potential givers.
4. Many churches failed to follow recommended methods of procedure.

Your Committee feels that a good start has been made. Much remains to be done, however. Outstanding performances by a few churches have pointed the way. We believe all churches will want to carry on this fall until the total objective has been raised. The end result will be stronger individual churches—and a stronger Diocese.

(b) Report of the Woman's Auxiliary

It is with a feeling of thankfulness that I report to Council this year—last year I was scared to death! I had been led to believe that the report of the Woman's Auxiliary was just one of the things that you had to suffer through, but on account of the letters I have received and the interest shown by the clergy in the work of the Auxiliary, I feel that you really want to hear of our work this year.

First, I wish to thank you for your interest. We, as the women of the Church—as Auxiliary to the National Council—are ready and willing to help when we can and appreciate being asked to help. It has meant a great deal to us to have our Educational Chairman, a member of the Board of Christian Education—and our Christian Social Relations Chairman a member of the Diocesan Board of Christian Social Relations. In this way we are unifying our work in the Diocese and helping each other.

Through our Christian Education Program, Institutes and Summer Conferences we are reaching our women spiritually as never before. They have the opportunity—and it is wonderful how they are responding to it—of studying, asking questions and discussing their "theology" (Mr. Ribble's word) and of bringing their faith to the surface where it can become something to live by—not just a Sunday affair. This quickening of interest in spiritual affairs in the Auxiliary has caused us to have the Devotional and Educational Work as the main emphases at our Institute this year. We are doing this because the Devotional Chairman is receiving more requests for help and literature than ever before. It is a healthy sign when our members begin to put first things first, and certainly the love of God and the seeking to know His will for us through prayer is the most important thing in our Auxiliary work.

Through our Christian Educational Program we are developing leaders for our Auxiliary, and we are seeking to find women who will give their lives to the work of the Church. You can help us in this way by sending us the names of women in your parish who are good potential leaders so we may use them in the departments of the Auxiliary where they are best fitted.

Our two scholarships—the Gift of Life, in memory of Miss Sallie Deane, and the Book of Remembrance scholarship—are being used by Miss Nancy Brotemarkle at Windham House and Miss Mildred Cline at the Presbyterian Training School. These girls have applied for these scholarships again for next year, when they will graduate. We hope that places for these two young women, who are making church work their vocation, will be found in the Diocese of Virginia. Giving to these scholarships and knowing the recipients is a vital part of our work. We also give scholarships to our Mountain Missionaries for Summer Conferences and Institutes, and this year we are giving a number of scholarships to the Petersburg Christian Training School at Lawrenceville, and $100.00 for the Family Conference at Shrine Mont. Individual Parish Auxiliaries are giving many scholarships to the Youth Conferences at Roslyn.

Diversified activities are included in our Christian Social Relations. Outstanding work was done in moulding public opinion in regard to improving the conditions of convict camps throughout the State. More can be done. The situation of the patients in the mental hospitals is being studied, and working with them grows out of this study. Interest in aiding the Japanese ministers continues high, and a number of parishes have been quite pleased with the grateful thanks they have received. True national friendship grows out of such contacts.

I ask you, as I did last year, to read our annual report. The President of your parish branch will be glad to see that you get a copy. Each year more Auxiliaries are beginning to work under the unified plan—which we feel means a strengthening of our work. The Auxiliaries of the small churches, of necessity, unify their efforts because there are so few women and the need for each one is so great. When the large Auxiliary becomes unified, we notice right away a great upsurge of interest. This is due to the fact that more women are brought into the work and more talents are available for use. In the small chapters of the Unified Auxiliary leaders are brought to the fore for greater work in the Auxiliary. Well over half of the Auxiliaries are unified now. This past year the Auxiliary of Emmanuel Church in Alexandria, St. Paul's Church in Charlottesville, and Christ Church in Alexandria have become unified.

Financially this has been one of the greatest years in the Auxiliary. But this has a danger! When your parish Woman's Auxiliary has deteriorated into a money-making organization, we feel that it is a purely local problem. Of course, we want and need the money for the missionary projects we accept from the National Council, but we accept no quota from the National Council and we make no assessments to the Auxiliaries. We try not to stress money! All our giving is free-will and should be motivated by a knowledge of the need. We hope the money your Woman's Auxiliary gives does not count on your church quota. We like to think of it as that little extra "bonus" that our missionaries need so desperately for so many things over and above what is sent them by the National Council. The Auxiliaries in the Diocese reported $173,072.91 put into use this year. Of this amount, $65,926.37 was spent on parish projects, such as helping with parish house funds, organ funds, buying pews, prayer books and hymnals, Sunday School equipment, kitchen equipment and other things too numerous to mention. This leaves $107,146.54—which amount includes our missionary giving, our great United Thank Offering, and money spent for C. S. R. Supply and other projects of our Auxiliary.

We hope you will read the Woman's Auxiliary pages in the Virginia Churchman each month, because we count on them for the publicity and promotion of our work. I would like to give you one date now which we hope you will leave open for the Auxiliary women in your parish—it is the Annual Auxiliary meeting held at Grace and Holy Trinity Church in Richmond on October 21 and 22, 1952. Encourage your women to come to this meeting, the Convocation meetings, Summer Conferences and the Institute, and we will send you back women fired with enthusiasm and a deeper knowledge of the purpose of the Auxiliary.

The women of the Church have to be both the Marthas and Marys! We just hope the spirit of the Auxiliary, through Christ, will permeate the work of the Marthas, so they, too, will know the joy of having chosen the better part.

MARTHA WATSON TAYLOR.

(c) Report of the Committee on Finance

The Committee on Finance has reviewed the audit of the accounts for the Diocesan Expense Assessment, the Program of the Diocese, the Trustees of the Diocesan Missionary Society of Virginia, and the Church Extension Committee, which has been made by A. M. Pullen & Company, certified public accountants, for the year ended December 31, 1951, and has found these accounts in order. The report shows no adverse criticism.

The audit shows that $85,600.00 insurance is being carried on the Mayo Memorial Church House and contents, and $12,650.00 on the building on the back of this lot. In addition, $109,200.00 insurance is being carried on various pieces of mission property scattered through the Diocese. The Treasurer of the Diocese has informed your Committee that a re-appraisal of this property is being made for insurance purposes and that he anticipates a sharp increase. The Diocese also carries owners, landlords and tenants liability insurance of $15,000-$30,000; automobile liability insurance of $25,000-$50,000, which has recently been increased to $50,000-$100,000; automobile non-ownership policy on cars of the clergy for the protection of the Diocese only of $15,000 to $30,000, which likewise has been increased since January 1, 1952; steam boilers insurance at the Mayo Memorial Church House; Workmen's Compensation insurance and fidelity blanket bond insurance with $50,000 coverage on each employee of the Diocese.

We have been concerned over the deficit that has accumulated in the Diocesan expense assessment. After all the receipts for the 1951 account were received, there was a deficit of $1,902.28, and it may be as high as $2,500.00 by the end of this year. This has been due in a small part to parishes that have not paid their assessments in full, but more to unbudgeted items. One of these is for Episcopal assistance. There are 199 churches and missions in the Diocese. With only two Bishops it is impossible for each parish and mission to have a confirmation every year. We have been fortunate in having the help of Bishop Tucker and Bishop Mason. Their traveling expenses and a modest honorarium of $25.00 has been paid them for each service. Another is the employment of a hostess and telephone operator at the Mayo Memorial Church House, made necessary because of the expanded work carried on. An item is included in next year's budget to pay off this deficit.

Our recommended budget for 1953 shows an item of approximately 5% to pay off the deficit and another 5% for increases. We recommend the following budget for the Diocesan expense assessment.

LEWIS C. WILLIAMS, Chairman.

(d) Report of the Committee on the State of the Church

Introduction: The State of the Church in the Nation.

How shall the Church react to the revival of religion in our time? It seems most evident that the populace of these United States is turning with fresh respect to the Church. This major fact of our mid-century presents the Church with a mighty opportunity which we should make every effort to exploit. But, as in every age, revivals of general religiousness also endanger the Church. There is much talk today about Western civilization needing Christianity in order to survive; many people are openly talking of the Church largely as an antidote for crumbling national morals; individuals are beginning to look to the Church for private peace of mind and soul in this age where panic and despair are creeping over the human spirit. Of course the Church must open its arms in compassionate welcome to all, even as our Lord in His grace so often began with men just as they were whatever their motive. At the same time the danger remains that the Church's zeal for Christ be turned into patriotism alone or mere enthusiasm for the American way of life; or that the Church's fellowship may become no more than human cooperation for the boosting of community morals rather than the unity of grace, sustained by the Spirit of God in Sacrament and Word; or that its catholic and apostolic faith be subtly blunted and shaped to fit the demands of a worried people who want religion to be strictly a private affair.

It is to this danger, the danger of fitting the Christian Gospel into the popular religiousness of the day, that we would first call attention. The state of the Church in the Diocese will always depend first of all upon the distinctively Christian truth of its teachings and the distinctively Christian quality of its fellowship. We would begin by issuing this warning to our Diocesan family amidst the increased popularity of religion in our time.

How then shall we approach the task of conversion of receiving seekers after the comfort of religion? The quality of the disciplines within the congregation-family, in every mission and church of our Diocese, gives answer to this. Do we treat people around us as really Christian (needing only to be aroused) or do we see them as largely pagan needing very careful instruction and nurture as they come into the Church? Shall we throw open the sacramental fellowship of the local congregation to the community around it with the least possible insistence on disciplines of entrance or re-entrance? Shall persons be accepted as god-parents primarily because they are close friends of the family or fond of children? Shall admission to Holy Communion be with the least possible emphasis on prior confirmation, careful instructions and obedience to this Church? How far can the Church go in toning down the disciplines of membership just to secure the attendance of the semi-converted and those of amiable but uncommitted good will? There are many signs today that we are living in an age in which false and idolatrous faiths have so captured the populace that we must once again raise the standards of participation in the Church's life. It seems so often true that the listlessness of the outsider today is a disguised hostility to the costly repentance and sacrifice which original Christianity has always required. If this be true, it is a kind of treason to make baptism easy for anyone, confirmation a hurried matter without the demand for personal commitment, and Holy Communion open to all comers without question of whether or not people are instructed, sincere, and prepared. Do we really serve the cause of Christian marriage by asking for only the minimum canonical conditions, since as we often say, "If we don't marry them, someone else will"? We call on clergy and laity alike to give most serious attention to just what basic strategy their congregation is following with respect to outsiders and to the lapsed within the fold, and to guard carefully against the sentimental assumption that vigorous Christians are made by an undemanding undisciplined welcome into the Church's sacramental fellowship.

On the other hand, as we look at what we call the pagan outsider who seeks admission into the Church, we must also call attention to another danger. This is the danger that Christians forget the words of Christ, "Why do you see the speck that is in your brother's eye, but do not notice the log that is in your own eye?" The Church must bear witness that all men, including Christians, are sinners; for only the publican's prayer stops the vicious circle of self-righteousness that rages around us. And as Christians who know that judgment first begins with the House of God, we may also know that an unrepentant Church cannot convert an unrepentant nation. If public morals are bad, if the nation is now reaping what it has sowed, we, who are the Church, must acknowledge our own share of guilt.

It is as sinners who are forgiven that we welcome into our midst all sorts and conditions of men, whatever their motives. But as sinners who also know the cost of our forgiveness to God, we know that we cannot take the Cross out of Christianity. A church without discipline is a church without a Cross.

(1) A Sad State of Affairs, Indeed.

Your Committee is appalled at the meaninglessness of statistics in our Diocese. It is almost impossible to judge the state of our growth or decline because of the confusion over terms, the laziness of clergy in preparing reports, and the general neglect of records. Part of the statistical problem is due to the commendable practice of cutting out deadwood in the communicant list over the past several years so that there are figures showing decline where there may have actually been gain in the number of active communicants. But other factors have contributed to the problem and so we make the following suggestions:

First: Since this is a National Church problem, we ask our delegates to Convention this year to bring up this question at Convention: What figures are we really trying to get at in the Church, particularly in the term "confirmed person"? Are we trying to define terms that aren't important anyway? Surely, if we know why we are trying to define them, we can define them better.

Second: In line with this, we feel that the resolution passed in Council last year concerning the meaning of the term "confirmed persons" is too ambiguous for practical use, and ask that a clarification be made at this Council by the Committee on Resolutions.

Third: We ask the Committee on Canons to rule on the meaning of the term "communicants" in the Constitution, Article III, Section 1, a. Is representation in Council to be based upon active communicants or upon all communicants, active and inactive?

Fourth: We offer the following resolution to be acted upon at this Council:

Resolved, That if a parochial report be not received at the Diocesan Office within thirty days of the date due, the offending Parish, Separate Congregation, or Mission Church shall lose its clerical and lay vote in any Council that meets during the year of the offense.

(2) The Administrative Duties of the Bishops.

There is no room for doubt that, under the present organization of the Diocese, our two Bishops are burdened with an unwarranted load of administrative duties. The nature and quantity of these duties are such that they leave a lamentably small amount of time for pastoral work. They are in fact so numerous and strenuous as to be a threat to the health of our Bishops. Thus for two reasons we feel that highest priority should be assigned to the improvement of this situation.

Several suggestions have been made in the past, several remedies actually tried. The fact that the situation still exists indicates that none was more than partially successful. There is the possibility of reconsidering an administrative assistant to the Bishops; or of the appointment of an Archdeacon to handle more or less routine chores; or of several Archdeacons appointed on a territorial basis. Perhaps these latter could be clergymen with small rural parishes who could take on Diocesan administrative duties in addition to their regular parochial work. Undoubtedly there are other alternatives worthy of consideration.

But investigation into this whole matter has made one thing above all clear to us: we are not alone in our ignorance of the exact number and extent of the administrative duties of the Bishops. The first thing that is necessary, before positive recommendations for improvement can be made, is a complete survey and cataloguing of the whole field. Only then can there be hope of constructive suggestions.

We therefore ask Council to appoint a committee to conduct a thorough study of the administrative duties inherited by the Bishop, the Suffragan, AND by the entire administrative staff. We ask that his committee be instructed to make a complete inventory of all responsibilities falling to these officials, classifying and subdividing them in such a way that they may be clearly appraised.

We further ask that this committee report in full its findings and its recommendations to an early meeting of the Diocesan Missionary Society's Executive Committee, based on this detailed study. It is suggested that the Executive Committee of the D. M. S. be empowered, if it sees fit, to act immediately upon the recommendations of this committee, without waiting for the next meeting of this Council.

It is hoped that, by following the above procedure, our Bishops can be restored to a more normal and human existence (in which there is time for relaxation) in the shortest possible time, be given time for that pastoral work for which they were consecrated, and be assured in their minds that the administrative duties, which they have heretofore handled themselves, are in competent hands.

(3) Memorandum to Vestrymen.

(a) We suggest that the Canon dealing with the Duties of Vestrymen be read at the congregational meeting in which vestry elections are held.

(b) We suggest that it is the duty of every vestryman to subscribe to the "Virginia Churchman."

(c) We ask the Committee on Christian Education to hold conferences at Roslyn on the duties of vestrymen and urge every congregation to send representatives.

(d) We urge the delegates at Council to see to it that the vestry read the Journal of Council when it is sent out to the Diocese.

(e) We ask each vestry, not already so established, to consider favorably the advantages of a rotating vestry, and act accordingly.

(f) We feel that every vestryman should become familiar with the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese.

(g) We urge vestrymen to attend Diocesan Councils as auditors even if they are not delegates.

(h) We ask that vestrymen be reminded of the fact that our primary duty as Christians is not some organizational task or some church job, in the common-sense use of the terms; our primary Christian work is the evangelization of the world we live in from Sunday to Sunday; that we Christianize the homes, the communities, and the scenes of our workaday world. Beware of equating the duties of a Christian as simply the duties of a vestryman! Beware of "board-meeting" Christianity!

(4) Is Your Parish Property Adequately Covered by Insurance?

The recent experience of one parish with regard to re-examination of fire insurance on its buildings bears brief telling in the hope that the story will cause all others who have not recently considered the matter to do so as soon as possible. We think it likely that many parishes have not adjusted their coverage to meet the upward spiral of replacement costs.

The vestry of the parish which we have in mind found that its insurance policies had been lost. Upon writing the insuring company it was informed that total coverage on both buildings and other property was only $18,200. Justifiably alarmed, the vestry immediately wrote requesting an appraisal by the insuring company, and increasing coverage to $50,200 pending completion of the appraisal.

In due course, the appraisal was made and the vestry was given a detailed report of the same containing drawings, photographs, inventories and so forth. On the basis of this report coverage was again increased to the recommended $65,300, a total increase of almost 300%.

We urge that all vestries in the Diocese immediately re-examine their fire insurance coverage and lose no time in making obvious adjustments. We further suggest that the matters of liability and of vandalism-theft insurance be carefully examined.

(5) Why is Youth Work So Hard?

Work with Young People has always seemed to be a problem with the Church and to some extent always will be, because young people must need suffer many things in the process of growth. But the difficulties of working with them are too often further complicated by the fact that so many parishes exist in fact only for adults, leaving the Sunday School, youth work and junior choir under the direction of specialists meeting at odd hours and out-of-the-way places. We are happy to note that the increase of family services in the Diocese is bearing testimony to the fact that infants, children and teen-agers are members of the Episcopal Church. It might further be added that the stuffiness of so many eleven o'clock services with their unvaried routine and lack of imagination does not appeal to young people. Nor is this solely the fault of the clergy, for many of our people are more concerned with pretty processions, professional music, and pretty services than they are with a lack of youth interest in God's work. We may also remember that the congregation that is too concerned with its heritage—old Episcopal or old Virginia—is likely to be mortally opposed to the spirit of youth.

Perhaps the most serious handicap to effective youth work is in the failure to take young people seriously as though their needs and problems were not important. It ill behooves this generation which spends so much money on television and whiskey and country clubs to belittle the needs of young people—to date, dance, and have fun together. In this connection we rejoice that a swimming pool has been built at Roslyn and is available for the summer conferences this year. The social, economic and religious problems of youth are just as serious and important as any one ever has in this life. Furthermore, the Church must minister to those needs if it is to do its duty by young people who have always been susceptible to the challenge and call of real faith. To neglect youth, and what is worse, to laugh them off as not yet fully responsible, is to fail people at a most crucial age. Teen-agers are fully capable of being Christians and we must give them every opportunity so to be.

(6) What is this New Program of Christian Education?

It has become increasingly apparent that Christian Education today involves far more than improving Sunday School teaching and curriculum. The true curriculum of every parish is the life of the congregation as it is lived out in the home, the town, the school, the office, the farm, the factory, and the country club. What the congregation is is what the children are taught. Obviously the great need is to make the congregation fervently and vitally Christian if Christianity is to be taught. Indeed the whole movement of Christian Education in our Church today may be described as an attempt to evangelize, to put Christianity into, the Church. This involves congregational self-evaluation in an honest attempt to make religion the first job of every parish and of every organization in the parish. It further involves the recognition that parents are primary teachers of children and that the home must again be a miniature church. Above all, the new program involves conversion—what we really need as human beings is an honest, inner facing of our sins that we may discover the joy and grace of our Saviour.

Given a revival of Christianity in our Church, then the written Sunday School material will be a word backed up by life—something that has reality to children, because it expresses the life they actually live. Unless there is such a revival in our Church any new curriculum material will be no better than the several hundred others now being used with such indifferent success.

(7) How Well Do You Know Your Community and its People?

One of the very great temptations for Christians is that in time of prosperity the conscience comes to be lulled and soothed. We say so often to ourselves, "Every one around here is well off." With the new influx of people in our urban and suburban areas, and with the vigorous efforts being made to bring them into church life through the Bishops' Building Fund, the temptation will be for the Church in Virginia to be contented with statistics. A fast-growing church can too easily think of success in terms of increased communicants, well-attended and more numerous services, expanding programs and booming budgets. Into the midst of this worthy, blameless, and happy scene must come the voice of the disturbed conscience. How deeply is the Christian witness penetrating into the life of the community around this blossoming congregation? Is there concern for the outcast, the migrant worker, the unpensioned sick, the aged, the unjustly accused, the people with no voice? How easily the Episcopal Church in our State can become part of the landscape, old and lovely!

We welcome, therefore, the expanding work of the Department of Christian Social Relations and we hope to see in this arm of the Diocese an awakener of Christian conscience among us. Beside all the many informative services this Board can render about social service, health, welfare, and family guidance facilities, its members should feel it their duty to sting the compassion of Christian men and women into the fruitful service of unhappy persons and unpopular principles.

(8) In Christ there is No East nor West.

In the matter of the work of our Diocese among the Negroes of our Commonwealth, we enthusiastically commend the action of the Executive Committee of D. M. S. as well as that of the Congregation of Christ Church in the purchase of the Christ Church property in the midst of the Church Hill section of Richmond, where 25,000 Negroes are living. This might be a sign (and we earnestly hope it is) of real action in one of the most shamefully neglected areas of our Diocesan life. It is well and good that we have done away with documentary segregation of the races in our Constitution and Canons; it is proper that we have planned to invest money from our Bishops' Building Fund Campaign in new and expanded Negro work. But this purchase still stands as the one vigorous, costly forward step the Diocese has made in Negro work in living memory.

We realize that we, as a Committee of Council, cannot presume to speak for the entire Council; but on our own behalf we feel compelled in conscience to say more on this subject. We do not believe that the segregation of the white and colored races in our churches is a political matter which can in any way be resolved by the ballot. The Church is a family, united in fundamental faith in the Ascended Lord, but permitting widely divided opinions about His will for the world and how His will is to be specifically expressed in society. But while the matter may not be decided by majority vote to which the minority must submit or be unchurched, it is a matter which cannot be evaded any more.

The fact that Virginia shares the common attitude of the South, having come to this attitude through long experience, does not alter the basic fact of 1952, namely, that racial equality is a major issue in the world-wide revolution of our era. No customary thinking in racial matters will stand unchallenged in a world in which the white race is becoming every year more a minority. We do not wish to pass judgment or to incite passions. We only wish to record our conviction that the place of the Negro in the Episcopal Diocese of Virginia must not, cannot, remain what it has been.

It is the clearest duty we know for us, the men and women of this Diocesan family, that, beginning with unfearful faith in Christ Jesus our Lord, we permit His Spirit to carry us in this matter where He will, come what may.

Conclusion—And now . . .

We must declare in conclusion that we feel our Diocesan family is greatly blessed in its Bishops. We are matched, at this hour of our history, with an Episcopate which is facing the future in progressive spirit and yet with feet planted on the rock of the best tradition, the almost overwhelming changes and opportunities all around us. Thank God that He has raised up such Bishops for this Diocese, men of faith, courage and humility!

THE REV. GEORGE F. TITTMANN, Chairman.

(e) Report of the Virginia Council of Churches to its Constituent Denominations

Seventy years ago church workers of Virginia began an effort to establish a state-wide program of cooperative Christianity. During the long period of seventy years, the churches of many denominations learned to work together and their united efforts were expressed through many different kinds of activities in the area of Christian education. At the mid-century, the major concerns of the Council are being expressed in the areas of Christian Education and Evangelism. In a very definite sense, these areas of concern are finding expression through every one of the Council's ten departments. In 1944 a group of cooperating denominations assumed official responsibility for carrying forward this cooperative church work through the Virginia Council of Churches.

Under the Chairmanship of Mr. Jesse Dillon, Treasurer of Virginia, the Virginia Committee on Religion of the Virginia Committee of the White House Conference on Children and Youth, brought certain shocking facts to light during the autumn of 1950:

" . . . Youngsters 6 through 17 years of age number approximately 629,531. Of this number, it is estimated 290,056 attend church or Sunday School and that 339,475 do not . . . "

Dr. W. E. Garnett, Rural Sociologist, Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station, in a progress report on the study of rural church trends, says:

" . . . Apparently less than one-half of those 13 years of age and above are affiliated with the churches. . . . Sunday School membership includes less than one-third of the people. . . . Only a small per cent (probably a little more than 10%) of the youth, age 16-24, are reached by either Sunday Schools or Young People's church organizations. . . . "

With a view to presenting and interpreting the Good News of the Gospel to hundreds of thousands of children, youth and adults in Virginia, the Council of Churches is striving to help groups of ministers, laymen and church women to consider their common concern and to study their common problems through a Council of Churches, Council of Church Women and Youth Councils in every section of Virginia. Specific programs of activity include the following:

1. Establishing cooperative training schools for Sunday School workers.
2. Promotion and supervision of week-day religious education.
3. Conducting cooperative institutes for Vacation Church School workers.
4. Developing community programs of home visitation evangelism.
5. Providing a ministry to migrants in principal migrant areas of the State.
6. Conducting county institutes in the area of rural life, church music and worship and other areas where Christians desire to work together.
7. Promoting state-wide observance of the publication of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible.

The Council has elected a new staff member, who will give major attention to the development of cooperative youth work throughout Virginia. A second new staff member will devote his full time to securing all kinds of material aid for overseas relief.

The Council deeply appreciates the many expressions of interest and goodwill which continue to come from Christians of all denominations and appreciates also the financial support from its constituent denominations and from local churches and individuals. Suggestions concerning any phase of Council work are always welcome. We earnestly request that Christians of every denomination may pray for the success of cooperative Christianity throughout Virginia.

Respectfully submitted,

MINOR C. MILLER, Executive Secretary.

(f) Report of Diocesan Commission on Armed Forces

One of the most acute problems to which the attention of the Commission has been drawn is the shortage of Episcopal clergymen serving, or available for service, as chaplains in the Armed Forces. While we are mindful of the need for clergy in our own Diocese as well as in other areas, we are concerned about the large numbers of young men and women in military service who have no access to the ministry of their own church.

The following figures are significant enough to be brought to the attention of the people of our Diocese:

| | Number of Chaplains on Duty with U. S. Armed Forces | Number of Episcopal Chaplains |
|----------------|---|-------------------------------------|
| Navy..... | 750 | 31 |
| Army..... | 1,470 | 65 |
| Air Force..... | 975 | 25 |
| | <hr/> 3,195 | <hr/> 121 |

At present the Diocese of Virginia has no clergymen serving with the Armed Forces, although one, the Rev. Guthrie Brown, has received orders for active duty June 1st.

During the past year the Commission has expressed its concern for visiting service men in the Diocese in two ways: First, by giving support to the Service Men's Centers where needed; and, secondly, by setting up machinery to offer home hospitality in urban and rural areas.

At a luncheon meeting held at Christ Church, Alexandria, in December, 1951, plans were made to make available the facilities of the Episcopal homes and churches in Virginia to visiting Episcopal service personnel. To this end, Mrs. E. J. S. Young, Diocesan Home Hospitality Chairman, and her assistant, Mrs. Leonard Jaudon, visited all military establishments in the Diocese and adjoining areas; talked with commanding officers, chaplains, Red Cross representatives and special service officers, and made arrangements whereby the resources of the Diocese might be utilized as fully as might be deemed necessary.

An attractive poster, in two colors, was printed and distributed to all military establishments in and in the vicinity of our Diocese and also sent to each church in the Diocese of Virginia, for which the Virginia Commission was commended by the Armed Forces Division of the National Council.

The Commission has been an effective liaison for many families with problems concerning military and veteran affairs and in helping them to contact the proper agency or in securing congressional help when necessary. The Chairman of the Commission was asked to make a special report to the Secretary of the Navy and to the Morale Board of the Navy following a three-weeks assignment in the Mediterranean.

The work of the Commission appears now to be primarily that of a standing committee which can be called on to meet special needs as they occur. The asking budget for 1953, a total of $300.00, covers items for books and tracts for chaplains and service personnel, home hospitality field work, contributions to the Armed Forces Service Centers, postage, printing stationery, telephone and secretarial help. No provision has been made in the budget for such contingencies as relief, welfare work or evacuation problems which might arise in the event of an attack or bomb disaster which, it is understood, is an area of the Commission's responsibility.

J. L. B. WILLIAMS, Chairman.

(g) Report of the Commission on Church Music

The Commission on Church Music provided instruction in hymn singing and chanting at the 1951 Roslyn Youth Conferences. The instructor was Granville Munson, Jr., a member of the Commission and organist at St. Stephen's Church, Richmond. The course was received with much enthusiasm and appreciation.

I am pleased to report that action has again been taken in the matter of training the youth of the Diocese in church music, and that Mr. Munson will return to Roslyn this summer.

Some of you may remember the successful three-day conference held at Roslyn in the fall of 1949 under the direction of Stanley Bulley, Music Director of Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg.

Definite plans have been made to hold a similar type conference October 13-15 at Roslyn under the leadership of Mr. Munson.

I speak for the entire Commission when I say that it hopes that arrangements can be made in 1953 to have a place on the program of either the spring or fall clergy conferences—using one of the Church's outstanding authorities in the field of church music.

The Commission has recommended that four additional members be added by Bishop Goodwin.

The cause of church music has suffered a loss in the death of the Rev. Arthur W. Farlander, of the Diocese of Sacramento. The Rev. Mr. Farlander was a member of the General Convention Joint Commission on the Revision of the Hymnal and Chairman of the Committee that compiled the Hymnal 1940 companion. He was in great demand as a lecturer and we were fortunate to get him for two conferences.

During the past year articles on church music have been written for the Virginia Churchman by Mr. Munson.

Respectfully submitted,

REGINALD W. EASTMAN, Chairman.

(i) Report of the Protestant Episcopal Church Home

The Protestant Episcopal Church Home is unique in the position it holds in Richmond and in the Diocese of Virginia. There is something personal in the appeal it makes to the sympathy and imaginations of those familiar with its work and its objectives. Founded in 1875, it is today as strong in spirit, as consecrated and zealous in its mission as at that time so long ago when it was first created.

In one of the "parlours" of the present structure hangs a charming photograph of Mrs. Caroline Lathrop, and beside it a framed letter, which, dramatic in content, speaks for itself:

"City Alms House
Jan. 8th, 1875.

"I have requested Mrs. Lathrop to call on Mrs. Callegan for the sum of $56.08, money belonging to me which I left in her hands; and I have stated to Mrs. Lathrop before these witnesses what disposition I wish made of it.

Eloisa Dews X her mark.

"Miss Mary A. Page
Mrs. H. Dimmock
Mrs. L. P. Lathrop
Witnesses.

Received of Mrs. Callegan $49.35 Jan. 15, 1875.

Mrs. C. C. Lathrop."

To Mrs. Dews, Mrs. Lathrop had been a loyal friend and benefactress. The legacy of that letter and the $50.00 was natural acknowledgment of long years of kindness and generosity towards one who had been in poverty and need.

Regarding the legacy as a trust, Mrs. Lathrop gathered together a group of women and formed a committee, the object of which was the establishment of a home for "ladies" of background who were without support. At the same time, it was as if ". . . two were bent by paths coincident on one august event." Mr. Frederick W. Hanewinkel, of Richmond, had vividly in mind the idea of establishing in this city a home for elderly women who were without means. Through his friend, Mr. Corcoran, of Washington, he had become interested in the Louise Home there, and wished to establish one modeled upon those same lines. It is interesting to picture all of this in the light of conditions of that period—to recognize how recent had been the war, how widespread was poverty among formerly independent people—in consequence the crying need of such a refuge as Mrs. Lathrop and Mr. Hanewinkel so desired to furnish.

At Mrs. Lathrop's request, on a Sunday morning in January, in St. James' Church, Dr. Joshua Peterkin read from his pulpit the letter written by Mrs. Dews. On the following Sunday he announced that a member of his congregation, who wished his name withheld, had given a house on Fourth Street to the cause of the Home.

Thus did a dream become reality. From now on the tale is one that has been often told. Mrs. Lathrop is quoted as having said, "Mr. Hanewinkel answered our prayers." He lived only two years after the founding of the Home. He gave during that time property adjacent to the original building and continued other donations.

On March 25, 1875, the General Assembly of Virginia approved an Act to incorporate the Protestant Episcopal Church Home. The incorporators were given power to adopt a Constitution, to enact By-Laws, to fill vacancies in their number, and to delegate their powers to a Board of Managers.

Since the Home was entirely dependent on voluntary contributions for its support, it has been necessary through the years to keep its needs before the public in various ways.

The first appeal from the pulpit was made by the Reverend Alexander Weddell, then Rector of St. John's Church and editor of Our Diocesan Work.

For some years a sermon was preached annually in every church in the Diocese and an offering taken for the Home.

In the early days the Endowment Fund was sufficient to meet the expenses of the Home. But it will not take much deep thinking to realize that an endowment fund of forty years ago is far from sufficient now.

The rectors of the churches of the Diocese of Virginia are becoming more and more interested in the Protestant Episcopal Church Home, and the women of the Auxiliaries are cooperating in a beautiful way. In fact, without their help, our Mothers' Day appeal, and other contributions from friends of the Home, our work could not continue.

Our waiting list is a long one, proving the need of a home for gentlewomen of our Church in reduced financial circumstances. We can take care of only twenty-eight at the present time.

We know from the letters which have accompanied contributions made in response to our Mothers' Day letters that people are glad to have a part in caring for our ladies. Those who do not know about the Home just need to be informed about it.

Will you please keep the Protestant Episcopal Church Home in your heart and mind and help us whenever and wherever you can?

MARIA C. WILLIAMS,
ROBERTA H. TRIGG,
LUCY F. GIBSON.

(j) Report of Margaret Paxton Home

The Margaret Paxton Memorial was established by the will of Mrs. Rachel A. Paxton, of Leesburg, as an independent, incorporated, endowed charitable institution. According to the will and charter, the Memorial property is held and administered by a Board of Trustees, assisted in an advisory capacity by a Board of Visitors. The original trustees were named in Mrs. Paxton's will. Of these, Miss Alice W. Davis, of Leesburg, is the only survivor. Vacancies occurring in the Board of Trustees are filled by the Board of Visitors. No membership or other qualifications are placed on the Board of Trustees. The trustees have the responsibility of maintaining the Memorial "in a suitable and proper manner, to the satisfaction and approval of the Bishop of the Diocese of Northern Virginia." The trustees are also solely responsible for the operation of the Memorial, for the investment and conservation of the endowment, maintenance of proper insurance protection, etc.

The Board of Visitors, by the terms of Mrs. Paxton's will, includes the Bishop of the Diocese of Northern Virginia, the Rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, Leesburg, and three lady communicant members of St. James' Church. Vacancies occurring in the Board of Visitors are filled by the Board of Trustees.

The Memorial has been operated annually since 1923 through the summer months under the superintendency of Miss Bertha M. Banton, R. N. It can accommodate thirty-five children at a time, maximum, and averages a slightly smaller number. The average stay per child is five to six weeks, and the average number of children cared for per year has been about sixty. In the past the children have been drawn largely from Loudoun County.

The physical property of the Memorial consists of a brick and stone house of some thirty-five rooms, with various outbuildings, situated on a lawn of some six acres. In addition, a large garden supplies vegetables. A small farm of fifty acres forms part of the property and is rented to produce income. An invested endowment has provided sufficient income for operation of the home, though with rising costs, very careful management of funds has become necessary in recent years.

(k) Report of Commission on Titles of Property

At the 156th Annual Council in 1951, upon recommendation of the Coordinating Committee, a Commission on Titles of Property was appointed, consisting of Mr. Archibald G. Robertson, Mr. Gordon Lewis, Mr. John J. Morris, Rev. G. MacLaren Brydon, D. D., and Mr. O. J. Sands, Jr. (Journal, p. 5.)

The duties of the Commission appear from the recommendation of the Coordinating Committee as follows (Journal, pp. 58-59):

"In order to clarify the legal status of the two properties named below, it is recommended that a committee be appointed to ascertain the equity in and or the Diocesan relationship to, the following:

"(a) The land, and perhaps the building, at St. John's Nursing Home, Ivy.

"(b) Summer Rest, near Greenwood, Albemarle County.

"Discovering and Listing Scattered Properties"

"The survey is unearthing or receiving reports of tracts of land with or without buildings said to belong to the Diocese. It is recommended that a committee be appointed to investigate, to confirm title to, and to list all ascertainable properties of this sort. Illustrations of such cases are:

"(a) The Diocesan equity, if any, in the property at Ada. This is urgent, and should be given immediate attention.

"(b) A plot of ground several miles north of Miller's Tavern.

"(c) The church and land at Rockland Mission."

The Commission has met several times with the Committee on Church Property and the Commission has forwarded the Bishop of the Diocese title reports from lawyers and recommendations upon the five following properties:

- (1) Grace Church property, Granville, Charles City County.
- (2) St. Paul's Church property, Lincolnia, Fairfax County.
- (3) St. Thomas' Church property, Middletown, Frederick County.
- (4) Two lots in Shenandoah, Page County.
- (5) Mission Chapel property near Upperville, Loudoun County.

The Bishop has forwarded the title reports to the Committee on Church Property for appropriate action in each instance.

The Commission has also reported to the Bishop the status generally of the five following properties as ascertained by the Commission from the Secretary and Treasurer of the Diocese without incurring the expense of title reports from lawyers:

- (1) Ada Mission House, Fauquier County.
- (2) St. John's Nursing Home, Ivy, Albemarle County.
- (3) Plot several miles north of Miller's Tavern on Virginia State Highway No. 360 between Tappahannock and West Point, Essex County.
- (4) Church and land at Rockland Mission, Fauquier County.
- (5) Summer Rest, near Greenwood, Albemarle County.

Recommendations

The work of any committee or commission to investigate, to confirm title to, and to list properties as recommended by the Coordinating Committee must necessarily be continuous over a considerable period of time.

The Commission therefore recommends that the Commission be continued, and that the Bishop of the Diocese designate one or more persons in each county and city within the Diocese to investigate and list with the Commission all properties within each such county or city in which the interest of the Diocese is questionable; and the Commission further recommends that it be authorized and directed in its discretion and with the approval of the Bishop to take all necessary action to protect the interests of the Diocese in such properties.

ARCHIBALD G. ROBERTSON, Chairman.

(1) Report of Committee on Invested Funds

Your Committee has examined the Auditor's report and lists of funds and securities held by the Trustees of the Funds of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia, which was referred to the Committee.

The report of A. M. Pullen and Company, certified public accountants, dated May 6, 1952, sets forth that the First and Merchants National Bank and the Virginia Trust Company, both of Richmond, Virginia, are custodians of the funds and securities held by the trustees of the funds of the Diocese. Their report reads in part as follows:

"Cash receipts and disbursements, as represented by statements on file in your office, submitted by the Custodian, were traced to recorded receipts and disbursements. Recorded receipts were traced to bank deposits and recorded disbursements by the Treasurer were represented by cancelled checks properly endorsed.

"Invoices or other evidence in support of charges to the operating account were examined by us.

"Securities comprising the invested funds were verified by actual inspection on April 21, 1952, and amounts as called for as of December 31, 1951, were satisfactorily established."

Relying upon the accuracy of the above, it is the opinion of your Committee that all securities are on hand and that the receipts and disbursements account of the Rev. G. MacLaren Brydon, Treasurer of the Trustees of the Funds of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia, have been properly audited and accounted for as of December 31, 1951.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES P. MASSIE, Chairman.

(m) Report of Commission on Church Unity

Since the last meeting of Council the National Church's Joint Commission on Approaches to Unity has had further conversations with the Unity Commissions of the Methodist Church. The members of the two Commissions have come to know each other, to understand each other's language, to trust each other. Consequently, they have been able to discuss with entire candor their important points of disagreement as well as of agreement, both sociological and theological.

The two Commissions are entirely clear that the ultimate goal is organic unity, and also that an indispensable preliminary step is inter-communion. To find means for effecting this step is their present concern.

A detailed study of the most important official formularies of the two churches (such as those in the Book of Common Prayer and the Book of Worship, the Articles of Religion, etc.) has been prepared, together with a brief historical introduction. The Episcopal and Methodist forms for baptism, confirmation, marriage, ordination, consecration, the Holy Communion and the Articles are printed in parallel columns. This material will be published very shortly. It is extremely important that it be studied by as many of our clergy and laity as possible, for it is by the study of such material, by discussion thereof in groups composed of both Methodists and Episcopalians, and by worshipping together that the members of the two denominations can grow toward the unity in the spirit which will make organizational merging natural and possible. It is particularly important that the ministers, vestrymen and officers of the Woman's Auxiliary participate in this common study, discussion and worship, and to forward it. An appropriation is proposed to furnish the necessary material to them.

Unfortunately, we are compelled by common honesty to admit that some Episcopalians desire the reunion of churches only if the other Church accepts our ways. For some of them "our ways" means the Prayer Book in toto, the kind of hymns and the attitude toward drinking, smoking and dancing congenial to most of us. To other Episcopalians, "our ways" means the ministry and sacraments which we have received from our forefathers, together with a particular interpretation of the same. Consequently there is a possibility that an attempt will be made at General Convention to require our Commission to negotiate on a basis which it would be impossible for Methodists to accept. Therefore a resolution is offered expressing the Council's confidence in the Joint Commission on Approaches to Unity and also Council's approval of the line along which the Commission is negotiating with the Methodist Commission.

Behind these conversations lies a deep realization of how shocking it is (from the religious perspective) that churches should be able to tolerate their disunion, and also of how terribly this disunion cripples all attempts to make the Christian faith and ethic more influential in the world today. That has always been the case. (It was missionaries who chiefly led the modern movement toward the reunion of Christendom.) It is more tragically true today than it has been for centuries, because the Christian faith and ethic are militantly opposed by the very powerful forces of Communism, Pan-Arab Nationalism Mohammedanism, and Secularism. It is all too clear that, in Bishop Brent's words, "The world is too strong for a divided Church."

A. C. ZABRISKIE, Chairman.

II. OPERATING ACCOUNT OF THE DIOCESE, AND INVESTMENT FUNDS OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE DIOCESAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF VIRGINIA AND CHURCH EXTENSION COMMITTEE

To the Finance Committee,
Diocese of Virginia,
Richmond, Virginia.

GENTLEMEN:

We have made an audit of the Treasurer's records and accounts of the administration of Operating Funds of the Diocese and Investment Funds of the Trustees of the Diocesan Missionary Society and Church Extension Committee for the year ended December 31, 1951, as kept by your Treasurer, Rev. Samuel B. Chilton, and submit herewith sundry statements, as reflected in the foregoing index, together with the following related comments.

The account of the Operating and Investment Funds, considered as a whole, embraces miscellaneous funds for general church administrative and extension purposes in the Diocese; and the cash funds for the purposes designated are derived mainly from churches, auxiliary organizations, individuals, etc.

In the verification of the amounts shown as accruing to the general account from the various sources enumerated above, we have not gone beyond the records of your Treasurer, but have relied substantially on a check of all recorded receipts and disbursements.

The form of the statements presented herewith is in conformity with that requested by your Treasurer.

Exhibit "A" reflects the assets, liabilities and fund balances of the Diocese at December 31, 1951.

Exhibit "B" reflects the changes in the "Reserve for Future Needs" and the deficit at December 31, 1951.

Exhibit "C" details the receipts and disbursements of the Diocesan Expense Account for the period under review and shows the deficit existing at the close of the year.

Other Diocesan operations are detailed in Exhibits "D," "E," and "F," and supporting Schedules 1, 1-a, 2, 3 and 4.

Exhibits "G," "G-1" and "H" pertain to the Trustees of the Diocesan Missionary Society of Virginia and reflect their financial condition, details of securities held and the additions and reductions to principal and income of the various funds, respectively.

The Diocese has for the past eight years paid $1,000.00 annually to the Trustees of the Diocesan Missionary Society, under a policy of restoring to the General Reserve Fund the amount of $11,475.00, representing a loss the trustees incurred in 1943 from the cancellation of a mortgage held on Emmanuel Church, of Alexandria, Virginia. It was reported there was no obligation on the part of the Diocese to restore the unpaid balance of $3,475.00.

Exhibit "I" shows the changes in the notes and fund balance of the Church Extension Committee.

Cash receipts as recorded were traced to bank deposits, and cash disbursements were represented by cancelled checks properly endorsed. Bank reconciliations were effected at December 31, 1951, with amounts reported directly to us by the depositories.

Accounts and loans receivable (Exhibit "A") were not verified beyond office records.

Notes payable (Exhibits "A" and "G") were confirmed by the holders, and notes receivable (Exhibit "I") were examined by us.

Investments (Exhibit "G-1"), as in the past, were not verified by inspection, but are stated as taken from list of assets on file in your office, prepared by the First and Merchants National Bank, Custodian, as of December 31, 1951.

Receipted bills and invoices supporting expenditures were substantially tested and found to be in order.

Respectfully submitted,

III. THE TRUSTEES OF THE FUNDS OF THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN THE DIOCESE OF VIRGINIA

THE REV. G. MACLAREN BRYDON, D. D., Treasurer

To the Trustees of the Funds of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia.

GENTLEMEN:

We have examined the records of account relating to the Funds of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia for the year ended December 31, 1951, and in connection therewith, we have prepared the accompanying statements, as set forth in the foregoing index, which, in our opinion, reflect the changes that have occurred in the various funds during the year 1951 and show their status at the close of the year.

Exhibit "A" sets forth the assets and fund balances at December 31, 1951.

Exhibit "B" reflects the total increases and decreases during the year, and the year-end balances of both fund principal and income of the individual funds of the general group, and of the Disabled Clergy, Widows' and Orphans' and Sallie May Dooley Funds.

In the allotting of income to the various individual funds, your Treasurer has apportioned net income to the funds on a basis of 4% of the average monthly balance of principal, except in the case of specified securities held for certain funds, in which case the income was allocated as received from the respective investment.

Changes in the General Investment Income during the year are set forth in Exhibit "B," and are restated in summary form as follows:

Income from investments..... 32,135 82
$32,175 91

Pursuant to a resolution adopted at the regular annual meeting of the Trustees of the Funds on January 23, 1951, the following plan of procedure for the handling of funds entrusted to the Trustees by various vestries and parishes became effective as of January 1, 1952:

"That deposits now held and those received in future be handled on the basis of a bank of deposit, the depositors not sharing in any enhancement in investments in the event of withdrawals, either partial or full withdrawals, the amount of the deposit remaining fixed.

"That the Finance Committee be directed to credit to reserve funds one-eighth ($\frac{1}{8}$) of yearly income before general distribution, until the reserve fund is of sufficient amount to give ample margin of protection to deposits.

"That earnings on the invested funds be disbursed to the depositors in such percentage and at such time as may be determined by the Finance Committee.

"That a uniform receipt be given for deposits."

Exhibit "C" details the receipts and disbursements of the Trustees and of the Custodian (First and Merchants National Bank) for the Sallie May Dooley Fund for the year ended December 31, 1951.

Exhibits "D," "E," "F," and "G" are statements of the principal fund cash, securities and other assets held for all funds. These statements were prepared by us from the general and office records and are summarized as follows:

SCOPE OF AUDIT

Cash receipts and disbursements, as represented by statements on file in your office, submitted by the Custodian, were traced to recorded receipts and disbursements. Recorded receipts were traced to bank deposits and recorded disbursements by the Treasurer were represented by cancelled checks properly endorsed.

Invoices or other evidence in support of charges to the operating account were examined by us.

Securities comprising the invested funds were verified by actual inspection on April 21, 1952, and amounts as called for as of December 31, 1951, were satisfactorily established. A summary of investments is set forth in Exhibit "H."

Respectfully submitted,

A. M. PULLEN & Co.,

Small beer

Today is one of my down days.
I think I shall worm my way to one of the Lower Echelons, or perhaps to the Lesser Antilles, taking with me only petty cash.
I shall travel by secondary roads and settle among the molehills, where I shall raise a few minor objections and one dwarf pine.
When the tide is at low ebb,
I shall watch for the common tern and the little blue heron and the least bittern to tiptoe past.
I shall play a second fiddle all evening,
and in the wee small hours
I shall pray, in undertones to St. James-the-Less.

ADDENDUM

Changes in the Constitution and Canons Adopted by the Diocesan Council in 1951 and 1952

CONSTITUTION

Amend paragraph (a) of Section 1, Article III, of the Constitution by adding at the end the following sentence:

"In any rural parish having two well-established congregations in different communities, both of which fulfill the requirements for mission churches, but under one parish vestry, if the normal course of dividing the parish by the erection of a new parish cannot wisely be followed, the vestry may elect two lay delegates, one representing each congregation, instead of electing one delegate only as representative of the whole parish, provided that this permission to elect two delegates shall only be effective after permission of the Council of the Diocese has previously been given."

CANONS

Amend Canon IX, Section 5, paragraph 1, to make it read as follows:

"For the furtherance of the purposes of the Society the Executive Committee shall create the following named Departments or Boards with such powers and duties as may be prescribed by the Committee, each of which shall consist of the Bishop and Bishop Coadjutor as ex-officio members and of two classes of members elected annually, as soon as may be after the organization of the Committee, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, namely:"

Amend Canon IX, Section V, Sub-section I, to read as follows:

"The Board of Christian Education, composed of two primary members, one being a clergyman and the other a layman elected by the Executive Committee, and nine additional members appointed by the Bishop and approved by the Executive Committee, which shall have charge of the work of Religious Education in the Diocese, and shall serve as an advisory board to the Executive Secretary."
